Winning 🦴🦴🦴 1969 (PG) A race car driver (Newman) will let nothing, including his new wife (Woodward), keep him from winning the Indianapolis 500. Newman does his own driving. Thomas' film debut. 123m/C VHS, DVD, Wide. Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward, Robert Wagner, Richard Thomas, Clu Gulager; D: James Goldstone; W: Howard A. Winning Girls Through Psychic Mind Control 🦴 2002 Highly convoluted and slightly comedic story of a drummer in a lounge act who becomes possessed by four wise entities after listening to an audiotape on psychic mind control. This new 'power' works its way into the act wherein he mind-reads audience members revealing where items are lost, if they're pregnant, and where they have hidden tattoos. The two-guys-talking effect wears out early and the comedy, although clever, is not enough to make up for the exceedingly thin plot line. 93m/C US Bronson Pinchot, Ruben Santiago-Hudson, Amy Carlson, Christopher Murney; D: Barry Alexander Brown; W: Dan Harnden; C: Scott Maher; M: Griffin Richardson, Adam Asarnow, Bill Simms Jr.

Winning of the West 🦴🦴 1953 Yodelin' ranger Autry vows to protect a crusading publisher from unscrupulous crooks, including his own dog-gone brothers. The brothers see the light, and the two corral the varmints. Autry tunes include "Cowboy Blues," "Cowpoke Poking Along," and "Find Me My 45." 57m/B VHS. Gene Autry, Smiley Burnette, Gail Davis, Richard Crane; D: George Archainbaud.

The Winning Team 🦴🦴½ 1952 Reagan stars in this biography of baseball legend Grover Cleveland Alexander and Day plays his dedicated wife. Some controversial issues were glossed over in the film, such as Alexander's real-life drinking problem and the fact that he had epilepsy. Although this was one of Reagan's favorite roles, he was upset by the studio's avoidance of all-too-human problems. Nonetheless, it's an entertaining enough movie about a very talented ballplayer. 98m/B VHS, DVD. Doris Day, Ronald Reagan, Frank Lovejoy, Eve Miller, James Millican, Russ Tamblyn; D: Lewis Seiler.

The Winslow Boy 🦴🦴🦴½ 1948 A cadet at the Royal Naval College is wrongly accused of theft and expelled. Donat as the boy's lawyer leads a splendid cast. Despite consequences for his family, the boy's father (Hardwicke) sues the government and fights his son's battle, as the case makes the papers and he approaches bankruptcy. Plot would seem far-fetched if it weren't based on fact. Absorbing. Based on a play by Rattigan, who co-wrote the script. 112m/B VHS. GB Robert Donat, Cedric Hardwicke, Margaret Leighton, Frank Lawton, Kathleen Harrison, Basil Radford; D: Anthony Asquith; W: Terence Rattigan; C: Frederick A. (Freddie) Young.

The Winslow Boy 🦴🦴🦴 1998 (G) Mamet successfully treads on unfamiliar ground with this English period piece in which young Ronnie Winslow (Edwards) is accused of stealing and expelled from military school. His father (Hawthorne) becomes determined to clear his name at whatever cost. And the cost is to be high, for his family, his health, and his moderate fortune. He hires renowned lawyer Sir Robert Morton (Northam), also with consequences for family and bank balance. Although based on a real case, the story largely ignores the main events of the scandal, focusing on its effects on the various family members. Strong performances are led by Northam and Hawthorne. Based on Terence Rattigan's play. 104m/C VHS, DVD, Wide. Nigel Hawthorne, Jeremy Northam, Rebecca Pidgeon, Gemma Jones, Guy Edwards, Matthew Pidgeon, Colin Stinton, Aden (John) Gillett, Perry Fenwick, Sarah Flind, Sara Stewart, Alan Polanski, Neil North; D: David Mamet; W: David Mamet; C: Benoit Delhomme; M: Alaric Jans.

Winter Break 🦴½ Sheer Bliss 2002 (R) Cheesy-but-amusing comedy for those who liked "American Pie." College grad Matt (Ventimigila) is wondering what to do about getting a job when his best bud, Peter (Thomas), persuades him to join their friends in Aspen for the winter. They're basically out to enjoy themselves—until Matt finds romance with Michelle (Lawson). 98m/C VHS, DVD. Milo Ventimiglia, Eddie Kaye Thomas, Maggie Lawson, Justin Urich, Eddie Mills, George Lazenby, Rachel Wilson; D: Marni Banack; W: Mark Botvinick; C: George Mooradian; M: Hope Botvinick. VIDEO

The Winter Guest 🦴🦴🦴 1997 (R) Rickman's directorial debut looks at the lives of eight people living in a remote and icy Scottish village, focusing on the fictional relationship between real-life mother and daughter Law and Thompson. Introspective and somewhat stagey, but fine performances and excellent use of the desolate landscape make this a worthwhile debut effort. Based on the play by Sharman Macdonald, which he and Rickman adapted for the screen. 106m/C VHS, DVD. GB Emma Thompson, Phyllida Law, Sheila Reid, Sandra Voe, Gary Hollywood, Arlene Cockburn, Douglas Murphy, Sean Biggerstaff; D: Alan Rickman; W: Alan Rickman, Sharman MacDonald; C: Seamus McGarvey; M: Michael Kamen.

Winter Kills 🦴🦴🦴 1979 (R) Distinctive political black comedy suffers a hilariously paranoid version of American public life. Nick Kegan (Bridges) has been drifting through life ever since his older brother, a U.S. president, was assassinated 15 years earlier. His eccentric father (Huston) wants to draw Nick back into the family by claiming a conspiracy, but as Nick begins to dig into the past, he does uncover political machinations. Uneven, but well worth seeing; flopped at the boxoffice, but was re-edited (with the original ending restored) and re-released in 1983. Elizabeth Taylor (as Lola Comante) went unbilled. Based on the novel by Richard Condon. 97m/C VHS, DVD. Jeff Bridges, John Huston, Anthony Perkins, Richard Boone, Sterling Hayden, Eli Wallach, Ralph Meeker, Belinda Bauer, Dorothy Malone, Toshiro Mifune, Elizabeth Taylor, Donald Moffat, Tisa Farrow, Brad Dexter, Joe Spinell; D: William Richert; W: William Richert; C: Vilmos Zsigmond; M: Maurice Jarre.

The Winter Light 🦴🦴🦴½ Nattvardsgaesterna 1962 The second film in Bergman's famous trilogy on the silence of God, preceded by "Through a Glass Darkly" and followed by "The Silence." Bleak and disturbing view of a tortured priest who searches for the faith and guidance he is unable to give his congregation. Hard to swallow for neophyte Bergmanites, but challenging, deeply serious and rewarding for those accustomed to the Swede's angst. Polished and personal. In Swedish with English subtitles. 80m/B VHS, DVD. SW Gunnar Bjornstrand, Ingrid Thulin, Max von Sydow; D: Ingmar Bergman; W: Ingmar Bergman; C: Sven Nykvist.

Winter Lily 🦴🦴 1998 Disturbing shocker. Photographer Peter (Gilmore) checks into a remote B&B where the only inhabitants are owner Agatha (Berryman) and her 14-year-old daughter Lily (Laferriere) who is confined to her bedroom by illness. When Peter finds Lily's diary, he discovers that she is dying because her parents are refusing her medical aid. Is this as a punishment for her affair with a much-older man? And just where is Lily's violent absent father (Bergeron) anyway? 90m/C VHS, DVD. CA Dorothee Berryman, Danny Gilmore, Jean-Pierre Bergeron, Kimberley Laferriere; D: Roshel Bissett; W: Roshel Bissett.

Winter Meeting 🦴🦴 1948 Overwrought drama with Bette Davis starring as a spinster poetess who falls in love with a war hero who wants to be a priest. Very talky script, of interest only as the sole romantic lead for James Davis, whose claim to fame was westerns and the TV series "Dallas." 104m/B VHS. Bette Davis, Janis Paige, James Davis, John Hoyt, Florence Bates, Walter Baldwin, Ransom Sherman; D: Bretaigne Windust; M: Max Steiner.

The Winter of Our Dreams 🦴🦴½ 1982 Down Under slice of seamy life as a heroin-addicted prostitute becomes involved with an unhappy bookshop owner. Davis shines in otherwise slow and confusing drama. 89m/C VHS. AU Judy Davis, Bryan Brown, Cathy Downes, Baz Luhrmann, Peter Mochrie, Mervyn Drake, Margie McCrae, Marcie Deane-Johns; D: John Duigan. Australian Film Inst. '81: Actress (Davis).

Winter Passing 🦴🦴½ 2005 (R) Reese (Deschanel) is a disillusioned actress living an empty life in New York, trying not to acknowledge the fact that her mother has recently died and she hasn't seen her father, a reclusive, alcoholic, once-famous novelist, in years. Motivated by an editor's (Madigan) offer of big money for potential love letters written by her parents long ago, Reese reluctantly returns to Michigan to reconnect with her mislaid father. Upon her arrival she's greeted by Corbit (Ferrell), her father's spaced-out caretaker, and Shelly (Warner), who handles her father's business matters. Dancing between humor and affection, the characters all carefully paint a portrait of loneliness and awakening. However, that dance is often a little too slow. Inspired performances, especially in Ferrell's wise restraint. 98m/C DVD. US Zooey Deschanel, Ed Harris, Will Ferrell, Amelia Warner, Amy Madigan, Dallas Roberts, Deirdre O'Connell, Robert Beitzel; D: Adam Rapp; W: Adam Rapp; C: Terry Stacey; M: John Kimbrough, John Kimbrough.

Winter People 🦴🦴½ 1989 (PG-13) A clock-making widower and a woman living alone with her illegitimate son experience tough times together with feuding families in a Depression-era Appalachian community. Silly, rehashed premise doesn't deter McGillis, who gamely gives a fine performance. Based on the novel by John Ehle. 109m/C VHS, DVD, 8mm, Wide. Kurt Russell, Kelly McGillis, Lloyd Bridges, Mitchell Ryan, Jeffrey Meek, Eileen Ryan, Amelia Burnette; D: Ted Kotcheff; W: Carol Sobieski; M: John Scott.

Winter Sleepers 🦴½ Winterschlafer 1997 Angsty and slow (completely unlike the director's breakthrough "Run Lola Run"). Rebecca (Daniel) is waiting at a mountain chalet for her boyfriend Marco (Ferch) to show up. When Marco leaves his keys in his car, Rene (Matthes) takes it for a joy ride and gets into an accident, eventually meeting Laura (Sellem) the nurse, who owns the chalet. The foursome wind-up together but nothing much matters. Based on the novel "Expense of the Spirit" by Pyszora, who co-wrote the screenplay. German with subtitles. 124m/C VHS, DVD, Wide. GE Heino Ferch, Floriane Daniel, Ulrich Matthes, Marie-Lou Sellem, Josef Bierbichler; D: Tom Tykwer; W: Tom Tykwer, Anne-Francois Pyszora; C: Frank Griebe; M: Tom Tykwer, Johnny Klimek, Reinhold Heil.

Winter Solstice 🦴🦴🦴 2004 (R) Such a sad, sad gut-wrencher. But it's so good at being sad. Jim Winters (LaPaglia) is the struggling father of a motherless family still trying to get by without her, five years after a tragic car accident. Jim's two sons, Gabe and Peter, don't want to grab hold when he reaches out to them. They're mad at the life they live. Thankfully, writer/director Josh Sternfeld doesn't bother with much plot, something that normally distracts from emotion and character examination in these types of films. These people live and suffer, and let us watch—we wonder what'll happen to them when the movie ends. Its effect lingers long after the credits. 90m/C DVD. US Anthony LaPaglia, Aaron Stanford, Mark Webber, Allison Janney, Michelle Monaghan, Ron Livingston, Brandon Sexton III, Ebon Moss-Bachrach; D: Josh Sternfeld; W: Josh Sternfeld; C: Harlan Bosmajian; M: John Leventhal.

A Winter Tan 🦴½ 1988 True story of New Yorker Maryse Holder (Burroughs), who's an alcoholic, drug-addicted, promiscuous one-time teacher who has decided to lose herself in the degradations Acapulco has to offer. Holder's eventually murdered by a pimp and her letters to a friend are posthumously published as "Give Sorrow Words." Self-destruction as its worst. 90m/C VHS. CA Jackie Burroughs; D: Jackie Burroughs, John Frizzell, John Walker, Louise Clark; W: Jackie Burroughs; C: John Walker, Louise Clark. Genie '89: Actress (Burroughs).

The Winter War 🦴🦴🦴 Talvisota 1989 One of Finnish films ever tells the story of the Russian war on Finland and the Finnish defense in 1939-41. 195m/C VHS. Esko Nikkari, Tomi Salmela, Vesa Vierikko, Samuli Edelmann, Teemu Koskinen, Esko Kovero, Eero Maenpaa, Konsta Makela, Taneli Makela, Heikki Paavilainen, Antti Raivio, Miitta Sorvali, Martti Suosalo, Timo Torikka; D: Pekka Parikka; W: Pekka Parikka; C: Kari Sohlberg; M: Jukka Haavisto, Juha Tikko.

Morgan, Mike Magri.

Winterhawk 🦴🦴 1976 (PG) A Blackfoot Indian seeks smallpox serum from a nearby trapper camp for his stricken tribe. When he's attacked for his efforts, he takes revenge by kidnapping two of the settlement's children. Exceptional cinematography of the breathtaking scenery can't hide the cliched, melodramatic story and waste of a fine cast. This was Hunnicutt's last screen appearance. 98m/C VHS. Leif Erickson, Woody Strode, Denver Pyle, L.Q. Jones, Elisha Cook Jr., Arthur Hunnicutt, Dennis Fimple, Dawn Wells, Jimmy Clem, Michael Dante, Charles B. Pierce, Seamon Glass; D: Charles B. Pierce; W: Charles B. Pierce, Earl E. Smith; C: Jim Roberson; M: Lee Holdridge.

Winterset 🦴🦴½ 1936 A son seeks to clear his father's name of a falsely accused crime 15 years after his electrocution. Powerful at the time, though time has lessened its impact. Loosely based on the trial of Sacco and Vanzetti and adapted from Maxwell Anderson's Broadway play, with stars in the same roles. Meredith's film debut. 85m/B VHS, DVD. Burgess Meredith, Margo, John Carradine; D: Alfred Santell.

Wintertime 🦴½ 1943 Forgettable and mindless Henie musical. Plot revolves around Henie travelling in Canada with her wealthy uncle, and saving an old, rundown hotel. An appearance by Woody Herman and his Orchestra give the film a much-needed boost. Based on a story by Arthur Kober. 82m/B VHS. Sonja Henie, Jack Oakie, Cesar Romero, Carole Landis, S.Z. Sakall, Cornel Wilde, Woody Herman; D: John Brahm; W: E. Edwin Moran, Jack Jevne, Lynn Starling.

Wired 🦴 1989 (R) A justly lambasted, unintentionally hilarious biography of comic genius and overdose victim John Belushi, very loosely based on Bob Woodward's bestselling muckraking book. The chronicle of addiction and tragedy is tried here as a weird sort of comedy; was it meant as a tribute to its off-kilter subject? If so, it misses by a mile. And, we're sorry, but Chiklis doesn't cut it as Belushi—who would?! 112m/C VHS. Michael Chiklis, Ray Sharkey, Patti D'Arbanville, J.T. Walsh, Gary Groomes, Lucinda Jenney, Alex Rocco, Jere Burns, Billy Preston; D: Larry Peerce; W: Earl MacRauch; C: Tony Imi; M: Basil Poledouris.

Wired to Kill woof! 1986 (R) In a futuristic world, two teenagers seek justice for their parents' murder by building a remote-controlled erector set programmed for revenge. Laughably porous plot drops any pretence of credibility. Dizzyingly bad. 96m/C VHS. Merritt Butrick, Emily Longstreth, Devin Hoelscher, Frank Collison; D: Francis Schaeffer.

Wirey Spindell 🦴 1999 Self-indulgent clap-trap about a self-satisfied creep. The title character (Schaeffer) is engaged to beautiful Tabatha (Thorne) but has become suddenly impotent due to extreme premarital jitters. This little dilemma leads Wirey to explore his childhood and druggie high school/college years (when the character is played by Mabius), his first love, and his falling for Tabatha. Problem is Wirey isn't a very interesting character. 101m/C VHS, DVD, Wide. Eric Schaeffer, Callie (Calliope) Thorne, Eric Mabius, Samantha Buck; D: Eric Schaeffer; W: Eric Schaeffer; C: Kramer Morgenthau; M: Amanda Kravat.

Wisdom 🦴½ 1987 (R) Unemployed young guy (Estevez) becomes a bank robber with Robin Hood aspirations, coming to the aid of American farmers by destroying mortgage records. Estevez became the youngest person to star in, write, and direct a major motion picture. And, my goodness, it shows. 109m/C VHS. Emilio Estevez, Demi Moore, Tom Skerritt, Veronica Cartwright; D: Emilio Estevez; M: Danny Elfman.

Wise Blood 🦴🦴🦴½ 1979 (PG) Gothic drama about a drifter who searches for sin and becomes a preacher for a new religion, The Church Without Christ. Excellent cast in achingly realistic portrayal of ersatz religion, southern style. Many laughs are more painful than funny. Superb, very dark comedy from Huston. Adapted from the Flannery O'Connor novel. 106m/C VHS. Brad Dourif, John Huston, Ned Beatty, Amy Wright, Harry Dean Stanton; D: John Huston; M: Alex North.

Lame black comedy that has too few moments. 100m/C VHS, DVD. Joe Piscopo, Danny DeVito, Ray Sharkey, Captain Lou Albano, Dan Hedaya, Julie Bovasso, Patti LuPone; D: Brian De Palma; M: Ira Newborn.

Wisecracks 🦴🦴🦴 1993 Women comics perform and talk about their work in this documentary directed by Gail Singer. The comics featured have, in some cases, little more in common than their work, but all share interesting perspectives on what they do. Interesting mix of performance clips and interviews sometimes includes banal comments about the nature of comedy, but is more often insightful, especially remarks by seasoned vet Phyllis Diller. Although there exists here the potential for an angry feminist diatribe on gender-based humor, the focus is more towards talented women who are just plain funny. 93m/C VHS, DVD. D: Gail Singer.

Wisegirls 🦴🦴 Wise Girls 2002 Estrogen-injected mob flick follows Meg (Sorvino), a med school grad who moves back to New York and takes a job waitressing in a mob-infested restaurant. Trying to divorce herself from a disastrous past, Meg gets wise to just which family owns this family-owned establishment. She's less than thrilled but the worst she has to deal with is reluctantly accepting money from their boss (Nascarelli), who admires her medical skills, and fending off advances from his odious son (Maelen), until she witnesses a murder and finds herself on the wrong side of the law. Plot contains interesting twists right down to the satisfying end. Sorvino performs ably while Walters is a standout and Carey proves she has stuff to make it on the big screen. Tired premise, however, takes some of the fun out this gangster chick flick. 96m/C VHS, DVD. Mira Sorvino, Mariah Carey, Melora Walters, Arthur J. Nascarelli, Christian Maelen, Joseph Siravo; D: David Anspaugh; W: John Meadows; C: Johnny E. Jensen; M: Keith Forsey.

Only Jupiter can't get over what a nice guy MacBeth is and falls in love with him instead—which doesn't mean Sally is giving up. 89m/C VHS, DVD. Cary Elwes, Mary Steenburgen, Elaine Hendrix, Christopher Lloyd, Billy Ray Cyrus, Robert Englund, Sally Kirkland, Gene Simmons, Shannon Tweed; D: Valerie McCaffrey; W: Scott Firestone; C: David Klein. VIDEO

Wishmaster 🦴 Wes Craven Presents Wishmaster 1997 (R) An evil genie grants wishes to those who stumble upon him, but he also gets his kicks by destroying the lives of those naive enough to play along. Anemic horror tale that's as thin on plot as it is on scares. Standard-issue exploding chest cavities and flying heads can't easily erase the boredom. Make-up artist turned director Kurztman should have wished for some directorial skills, because he hasn't got a clue. Don't be misled by Wes Craven's name, his association with this dud is meant to lure the least discriminating of horror fans. 90m/C VHS, DVD. Tammy Lauren, Andrew Divoff, Robert Englund, Chris Lemmon, Tony Crane, Wendy Benson, Jenny O'Hara, Tony Todd, Kane Hodder; D: Robert Kurtzman; W: Peter Atkins; C: Jacques Haitkin; M: Harry Manfredini.

One of the girls discovers she can use the board to communicate with a small boy who died years before. In her effort to talk with him she unwittingly releases the evil spirit of an ax murderer who haunts and murders members of the group. An entertaining, relatively inoffensive member of its genre that displays some attention to characterization and plot. 98m/C VHS, DVD. Todd Allen, Tawny Kitaen, Stephen Nichols, Kathleen Wilhoite, Burke Byrnes, Rose Marie, James W. Quinn, Judy Tatum, Gloria Hayes, J.P. Luebsen, Susan Nickerson; D: Kevin S. Tenney; W: Kevin S. Tenney; C: Roy Wagner; M: Dennis Michael Tenney.

Witchboard 2: The Devil's Doorway 🦴🦴½ 1993 (R) There seem to be a lot of doorways to hell because someone is always finding a new one (and making a movie about it). This time it's the innocent Paige Benedict (Dolenz), who moves into an artist's loft and finds an old Ouija board in a closet. Through the board, Paige is contacted by a former tenant who claims to be a murder victim. Soon her fellow tenants are dying in violent and mysterious ways and Paige's dreams are haunted by evil. What hath she wrought—and can she get it back in the closet where it belongs. 98m/C VHS. Ami Dolenz, Laraine Newman, Timothy Gibbs, John Gatins, Julie Michaels, Marvin Kaplan; D: Kevin S. Tenney; W: Kevin S. Tenney; C: David Lewis; M: Dennis Michael Tenney.

Witchboard 3: The Possession 🦴🦴½ 1995 (R) A Ouija board opens the gates to hell (yet again or we wouldn't have a movie) and the board's spirit steals Brian's soul and takes control of his body—much to the bewilderment of his girlfriend Julie. 93m/C VHS, DVD. David Nerman, Locky Lambert, Cedric Smith, Donna Sarrasin; D: Peter Svatek; W: Kevin S. Tenney, Jon Ezrine; C: Barry Gravelle.

Witchcraft woof! 1988 (R) A young mother meets a couple killed three centuries ago for performing witchcraft. They want her baby, of course, to be the son of the devil. "Rosemary's Baby" rip-off, that is thoroughly predictable. 90m/C VHS, DVD. Anat "Topol" Barzilai, Gary Sloan, Mary Shelley, Deborah Scott, Alexander Kirkwood, Lee Kisman, Edward Ross Newton; D: Robert Spera; W: Jody Savin; C: Jens Sturup; M: Randy Miller.

Witchcraft 2: The Temptress 🦴 1990 (R) A sensuous woman seduces an innocent young man into the rituals of witchcraft and the occult. Sequel to "Witchcraft" does not succeed where original failed, but does have a fair share of sex and violence. 88m/C VHS, DVD. Charles Solomon, Mia Ruiz, Delia Sheppard; D: Mark Woods; W: Jim Hanson, Sal Manna; C: Jens Sturup; M: Miriam Cutler.

Witchcraft 3: The Kiss of Death 🦴🦴 1990 (R) Once a master of the occult, William Spanner now seeks only to live a normal life. His plans are changed, however, when a sensual creature from Hell is sent to seduce him. More sex and violence, with an emphasis on sex. The best of the "Witchcraft" trio, for those trying to plan a festive evening. 85m/

Witchcraft 5: Dance with the Devil 🦴 1992 (R) This undistinguished horror series continues with several successful people finding the unpleasant loopholes in their satanic contracts. A demon named Cain is behind all the trouble. The horror special effects are cheap but there are several soft-core sex scenes (pointless to the plot) which provide a minimal interest. An unrated version is also available. 94m/C VHS. Marklen Kennedy, Carolyn Taye-Loren, Nicole Sassaman, Aysha Hauer; D: Talun Hsu.

Witchcraft 6: The Devil's Mistress 🦴 1994 (R) Police detectives Lutz and Garner's new case involves young women turning up naked and dead. Turns out satanic disciple Savanti is expected to impress the boss with a virgin sacrifice before an impending eclipse. But since virgins are scarce, he's having a real tough time. Holiday, Bryan Nutter, Jerry Spicer, Shannon Lead; D: Julie Davis; W: Julie Davis.

Witchery 🦴 La Casa 4; Ghosthouse 2; Witchcraft 1988 A photographer and his girlfriend vacation at a New England hotel where they discover a horrifying, satanic secret. One by one (as always, in this kind of bad flick, in the interest of "suspense"), people are killed off. Seems it's a witch, bent on revenge. Forget room service and bar the door. Laurenti used the pseudonym Martin Newlin. 96m/C VHS, DVD. David Hasselhoff, Linda Blair, Catherine Hickland, Hildegarde Knef, Leslie Cumming, Bob Champagne, Richard Farnsworth, Michael Manches; D: Fabrizio Laurenti.

The Witches 🦴🦴½ The Devil's Own 1966 Gwen Mayfield (Fontaine) accepts a teaching position at Hadddaby School. She wants to put terrifying memories of work in Africa behind her, but finds that the bucolic English country town is just as dangerous. The sense of menace isn't as strong as it is in the similar "Wicker Man," and the film isn't one of the strongest entries from the Hammer Studio, but it is up to their high standards in terms of production values and acting. 90m/C DVD, Wide. Joan Fontaine, Kay Walsh, Alec McCowen, Ann Bell, John Collin, Michele Dotrice, Gwen Ffrangcon Davies, Ingrid Brett; D: Cyril Frankel; W: Nigel Kneale; C: Arthur Grant; M: Richard Rodney Bennett.

The boy, with the help of his good witch grandmother, attempts to prevent the mass transmutation of children into mice. Top-notch fantasy probably too spooky for the training wheel set. Wonderful special effects; the final project of executive producer Jim Henson. Based on Roald Dahl's story. 92m/C VHS, DVD. Anjelica Huston, Mai Zetterling, Jasen Fisher, Rowan Atkinson, Charlie Potter, Bill Paterson, Brenda Blethyn, Jane Horrocks; D: Nicolas Roeg; W: Allan Scott; C: Harvey Harrison; M: Stanley Myers. Witches' Brew 🦴🦴 1979 (PG) Three young women try to use their undeveloped skills in witchcraft and black magic to help Garr's husband get a prestigious position at a university, with calamitous results. Oft-funny spoof is silly and oft-predictable. Turner's role is small as an older, experienced witch. 98m/C VHS. Teri Garr, Richard Benjamin, Lana Turner, Kathryn Leigh Scott; D: Richard Shorr, Herbert L. Strock.

Witches' Mountain 🦴 1971 A troubled couple is captured by a coven of witches in the Pyrenees. Dull and pointless. 98m/C VHS. MX Patty (Patti) Shepard, John Caffari, Monica Randall; D: Raul Artigot.

The Witches of Eastwick 🦴🦴½ 1987 (R) "Mad Max" director Miller meets Hollywood in this unrestrained, vomit-filled treatment of John Updike's novel about three lonely small-town New England women and their sexual liberation. A strange, rich, overweight and balding, but nonetheless charming man knows their deepest desires and makes them come true with decadent excess. Raunchy fun, with Nicholson overacting wildly as the Mephisto. Miller lends a bombastic violent edge to the effort, sometimes at the expense of the story. Filmed on location in Cohasset, Massachusetts. 118m/C VHS, DVD, 8mm. Jack Nicholson, Cher, Susan Sarandon, Michelle Pfeiffer, Veronica Cartwright, Richard Jenkins, Keith Joakum, Carel Struycken; D: George Miller; W: Michael Cristofer; C: Vilmos Zsigmond; M: John Williams. She heads to a Caribbean retreat to participate in a program organized by psychotherapist Professor Avebury (Cassidy) but evil things happen when her fellow patients start to disappear. The scenery is pretty but there's little else to recommend in this standard witch tale. 82m/C DVD. Joanna Cassidy, Nicole Cavazos, Nicole Marie Monica, Kelly Giddish, Michael King, Nina Tapanin, Kyle Jordan; D: David DeCoteau; W: Jana K. Arnold; C: Robert Hayes. VIDEO

Witchouse 2: Blood Coven 🦴🦴½ 2000 (R) Four unmarked graves are discovered by a strange house that is about to be torn down. The graves may be related to Lilith, a witch burned to death in the area. Has Lilith return to take revenge? 82m/C VHS, DVD, Wide. Ariauna Albright, Andrew Prine, Nicholas Lanier, Elizabeth Hopgood; D: J.R. Bookwalter. VIDEO

Witchouse 3: Demon Fire 🦴🦴 2001 (R) Stevie (Rochon) and Rose (Krause) are filming a documentary on witchcraft, when their old friend Annie (Dempsey) comes to visit. Annie is seeking refuge from her abusive boyfriend and her buddies are glad to oblige. As part of the documentary, the three women conduct a mock seance, and inadvertently raise the spirit of the evil witch Lilith (Stevens). Soon, strange things happen and the corpses start piling up. Is Lilith real, or has one of the girls gone insane? As with the other films in this series, director Bookwalter is able to put every nickel up onscreen and create an interesting movie. This one isn't great art, nor does it want to be. It's simply a horror film that offers cheap thrills, attractive ladies, and a brief escape from reality. 77m/C DVD, Wide. Debbie Rochon, Tanya Dempsey, Tina Krause, Brinke Stevens; D: J.R. Bookwalter.

The Witch's Mirror 🦴🦴 1960 A sorceress plots to destroy the murderer of her god-daughter. The murderer, a surgeon, begins a project to restore the disfigured face and hands of his burned second wife, and he doesn't care how he gets the materials. For true fans of good bad horror flicks. Although he was sworn to secrecy about the audition, Johnny can't help spread the good news to his friends. Faster than you can say "sleeps with the fishes," every character actor in town is trying to wrangle their own audition and practicing their best mobster impressions. Clever and funny look inside the non-glamorous side of the movie industry, with all its faults and insecurities attached. 105m/C VHS. Adam Arkin, Robert Costanzo, Beverly D'Angelo, Elle Macpherson, Amy Madigan, David Strathairn, Jon Tenney, Lauren Tom, Carmine Costanzo, Garry Marshall, Michael McKean, Ashley Peldon, Jon Polito, Heather Stephens, Bill Murray, Martin Scorsese, Laura San Giacomo, Tom La Grua, Armando Pucci, Andrew Schaifer; D: Philip Messina; W: Philip Messina; C: Brian Reynolds.

Without a Clue 🦴🦴½ 1988 (PG) Spoof of the Sherlock Holmes legend, in which Holmes is actually portrayed by a bumbling, skirt-chasing actor, and Watson is the sole crime-solving mastermind, hiring the actor to impersonate the character made famous by the doctor's published exploits. The leads have some fun and so do we; but laughs are widely spaced. 107m/C VHS, DVD. GB Michael Caine, Ben Kingsley, Jeffrey Jones, Lysette Anthony, Paul Freeman, Nigel Davenport, Peter Cook, Pat Keen; D: Thom Eberhardt; W: Gary Murphy, Larry Strawther; M: Henry Mancini.

Without a Paddle 🦴🦴½ 2004 (PG-13) A harmlessly stupid buddy flick finds three lifelong friends—phobic Dan (Green), surfer dude Jerry (Lillard), and loudmouth Tom (Shepard)—mourning the unexpected death of pal Billy. Uneasily pushing 30, these faux grown-ups decide to pursue a childhood fantasy by heading into the Oregon woods to search for the lost treasure of '70s crime legend, D.B. Cooper. Now the real fun begins as they deal with growling bears, canoeing the rapids, redneck pot farmers, tree-huggers, and, briefly, a charismatically grizzled Burt Reynolds. There's a lot of standard scatological and slapstick humor as well as many nostalgic '70s and '80s references that may be lost on a younger crowd. 99m/C VHS, DVD. US Seth Green, Matthew Lillard, Dax Shepard, Ethan Suplee, Abraham Benrubi, Rachel Blanchard, Burt Reynolds, Christina Moore, Bonnie Somerville, Ray Baker; D: Steven Brill; W: Jay Leggett, Mitch Rouse, Fred Wolf, Harris Goldberg, Tom Nursall; C: Jonathan Brown; M: Christophe Beck.

Without a Trace 🦴🦴 1983 (PG) One morning, a six-year-old boy is sent off to school by his loving mother, never to return. The story of the mother's relentless search for her son. Without Limits 🦴🦴🦴 Pre 1997 (PG-13) Second biopic about '70s long-distance runner Steve Prefontaine (after 1996's "Prefontaine") focuses mainly on Prefontaine's (Crudup) relationship with his University of Oregon coach Bill Bowerman (Sutherland), who later was a co-founder of Nike. Also explores the heartbreak of the 1972 Olympics. Crudup does a fine job exploring the runner's playful arrogance, fearlessness, and iconoclasm (especially when dealing with the corrupt AAU). Sutherland, playing a three-dimensional character for the first time in a while, gives a fine performance. Kenny Moore, a close friend and fellow '72 Olympian, wrote the script with director Towne, with the full cooperation of Bowerman and Prefontaine's girlfriend. 117m/C VHS, DVD. Billy Crudup, Donald Sutherland, Monica Potter, Jeremy Sisto, Matthew Lillard, Billy Burke, Dean Norris, Gabriel Olds, Judith Ivey; D: Robert Towne; W: Robert Towne, Kenny Moore; C: Conrad L. Hall; M: Randy Miller.

Without Love 🦴🦴½ 1945 Tracy is a scientist, Hepburn, a woman with an empty basement for his laboratory. Adapted from the play of the same name by Philip Barry. 113m/B VHS, DVD. Spencer Tracy, Katharine Hepburn, Lucille Ball, Keenan Wynn, Carl Esmond, Patricia Morison, Felix Bressart; D: Harold Bucquet; W: Donald Ogden Stewart; C: Karl Freund.

Robert Bren, Edmund L. Hartman; C: J. Roy Hunt.

They both dislike her famous book and don't realize they're traveling with the renowned author. Misadventures and misunderstandings abound as this trio make their way to Tinseltown. Of course, Colbert and Wayne fall in love. Boxoffice success with a tired script and too few real laughs. The Duke is interesting but miscast. Based on the novel "Thanks, God, I'll Take It From Here" by Jane Allen. 101m/B VHS. Claudette Colbert, John Wayne, Don DeFore, Phil Brown, Frank Puglia; Cameos: Louella Parsons, Cary Grant, Jack Benny; D: Mervyn LeRoy; C: Milton Krasner.

Without Warning: The James Brady Story 🦴🦴🦴 1991 (R) White House Press Secretary Brady took a bullet in the brain during the 1981 shooting of President Reagan, and made a slow, grueling recovery. This fine cable film spares none of it, concentrating on the stricken man and his family, and opting out of disease-of-the-week cliches (though the pic's politics won't please the gun-adorers). Based on Mollie Dickinson's biography "Thumbs Up." 120m/C VHS. Beau Bridges, Joan Allen, David Strathairn, Christopher Bell, Gary Grubbs, Bryan Clark, Steve Flynn, Christine Healy, Susan Brown; D: Michael Toshiyuki Uno; W: Robert Bolt. Investigating detective John Book (Ford, in one of his best roles) soon discovers the killing is part of a conspiracy involving corruption in his department. He follows the child and his young widowed mother, Rachel (McGillis) to their home in the country. A thriller with a difference, about the encounter of alien worlds, with a poignant love story. McGillis, in her first major role, is luminous as the Amish mother, while Ford is believable as both a cop and a sensitive man. An artfully crafted drama, richly focusing on the often misunderstood Amish lifestyle. 112m/C VHS, DVD. Harrison Ford, Kelly McGillis, Alexander Godunov, Lukas Haas, Josef Sommer, Danny Glover, Patti LuPone, Viggo Mortensen, Robert Earl Jones; D: Peter Weir; W: William Kelley, Earl W. Ailing defense attorney Laughton can't resist taking an intriguing murder case, and a straightforward court case becomes increasingly complicated in this energetic adaptation of an Agatha Christie story and stage play. Outstanding performances by Laughton, with excellent support by real life wife, Lanchester, as his patient nurse. Power, as the alleged killer, and Dietrich as a tragic woman are top-notch (see if you can detect Dietrich in an unbilled second role). 116m/B VHS, DVD, Wide. Charles Laughton, Tyrone Power, Marlene Dietrich, Elsa Lanchester, John Williams, Henry Daniell, Una O'Connor; D: Billy Wilder; W: Billy Wilder, Harry Kurnitz; C: Russell Harlan; M: Matty Malneck. Witness to the Execution 🦴🦴 1994 (PG-13) It's 1999 and Tycom Entertainment, a pay-per-view network, is looking for some hot entertainment. Top exec Jessica (Young) decides to televise the electric chair execution of convicted criminal Dennis Casterline (Daly). Witness to the Mob 🦴½ 1998 (R) Originally an NBC miniseries, this mob saga tells the true story of Sammy "The Bull" Gravano (Turturro), who turned state's evidence against his boss, John Gotti. Manages to hit every cliche and stereotype along the way. 172m/C VHS. Nicholas Turturro, Tom Sizemore, Debi Mazar, Frankie Valli, Abe Vigoda, Philip Baker Hall, Frank Vincent, Michael Imperioli, Lenny Venito, Vincent Pastore, Kirk Acevedo, Richard Bright; D: Thaddeus O'Sullivan; W: Stanley Weiser; C: Frank Prinzi; M: Stephen Endelman. Wittgenstein 🦴🦴 1993 Complicated, experimental portrait of Viennese-born philosopher Ludwig Wittgenstein (Johnson), executed as a series of blackout sketches (that feature a green Martian dwarf and such friends as Bertrand Russell and Ottoline Morrell). Assumes a familiarity with the eccentric Wittgenstein's ideas but does manage to convey some emotion and wit. 75m/C VHS. GB Karl Johnson, Michael Gough, Tilda Swinton, John Quentin, Nabil Shaban; D: Derek Jarman; W: Derek Jarman, Terry Eagleton, Ken Butler.

The Wiz 🦴🦴 1978 (G) Black version of the long-time favorite "The Wizard of Oz," based on the Broadway musical. Ross plays a Harlem schoolteacher who is whisked away to a fantasy version of NYC in a search for her identity. Some good character performances and musical numbers, but generally an overblown and garish effort with Ross too old for her role. Pryor is poorly cast, but Jackson is memorable as the Scarecrow. High-budget ($24 million) production with a ton of name stars, lost $11 million, and cooled studios on black films. Horne's number as the good witch is the best reason to sit through this one. ♫The Feeling That We Have; Can I Go On Not Knowing; Glinda's Theme; He's the Wizard; Soon as I Get Home; You Can't Win; Ease on Down the Road; What Would I Do If I Could Feel?; Slide Some Oil to Me. 133m/C VHS, DVD, Wide. Diana Ross, Michael Jackson, Nipsey Russell, Ted Ross, Mabel King, Thelma Carpenter, Richard Pryor, Lena Horne; D: Sidney Lumet; W: Joel Schumacher; C: Oswald Morris; M: Quincy Jones.

The Wizard 🦴½ 1989 (PG) Facing the dissolution of his dysfunctional family, a youngster decides to take his autistic, video game-playing little brother across the country to a national video competition. Way too much plot in pretentious, blatantly commercial feature-length Nintendo ad, featuring the kid from "The Wonder Years." For teen video addicts only. 99m/C VHS, DVD. Fred Savage, Beau Bridges, Christian Slater, Luke Edwards, Jenny Lewis; D: Todd Holland; W: David Chisholm.

The Wizard of Gore 🦴 1970 (R) The prototypical Lewis splatter party, about a magician whose on-stage mutilations turn out to be messily real. High camp and barrels of bright movie blood. 96m/C VHS, DVD. Ray Sager, Judy Cler, Wayne Ratay, Phil Laurensen, Jim Rau, Don Alexander, Monika Blackwell, Corinne Kirkin, John Elliott; D: Herschell Gordon Lewis; W: Allen Kahn; C: Alex Ameri, Daniel Krogh; M: Larry Wellington.

The Wizard of Loneliness 🦴🦴½ 1988 (PG-13) A disturbed young boy goes to live with his grandparents during WWII, and slowly discovers family secrets centering on his aunt. Excellent performances barely save an aimless plot with an overdone denouement. Anne Riley) Bowen; W: Nancy Larson; C: Richard Bowen; M: Michel Colombier.

Frank Baum fantasy, with notable plot departures from the book and later 1939 adaptation, starring long-forgotten comedian Semon as the Scarecrow, supported by a pre-Laurel Hardy as the Tin Woodman. With music score. 96m/B VHS, DVD, 8mm. Larry Semon, Dorothy Dwan, Bryant Washburn, Charles Murray, Oliver Hardy, Josef Swickard, Virginia Pearson; D: Larry Semon; W: L. The Wizard of Oz 🦴🦴🦴🦴 1939 From the book by L. Frank Baum. Fantasy about a Kansas farm girl (Garland, in her immortal role) who rides a tornado to a brightly colored world over the rainbow, full of talking scarecrows, munchkins and a wizard who bears a strange resemblance to a Kansas fortune-teller. She must outwit the Wicked Witch if she is ever to go home. Delightful performances from Lahr, Bolger, and Hamilton; King Vidor is uncredited as co-director. Director Fleming originally wanted Deanna Durbin or Shirley Temple for the role of Dorothy, but settled for Garland who made the song "Over the Rainbow" her own. She received a special Academy Award for her performance. For the 50th anniversary of its release, "The Wizard of Oz" was restored and includes rare film clips of Bolger's "Scarecrow Dance" and the cut "Jitterbug" number, and shots by Buddy Ebsen as the Tin Man before he became ill and left the production. Another special release of the film, "The Ultimate Oz," contains a documentary on the making of the film, a reproduction of the original script, still photos, and liner notes. ♫Munchkinland; Ding Dong the Witch is Dead; Follow the Yellow Brick Road; If I Only Had a Brain/a Heart/the Nerve; If I Were the King of the Forest; The Merry Old Land of Oz; Threatening Witch; Into the Forest of the Wild Beast; The City Gates are Open. 101m/C VHS, DVD. Judy Garland, Margaret Hamilton, Ray Bolger, Jack Haley, Bert Lahr, Frank Morgan, Charley Grapewin, Clara Blandick, Mitchell Lewis, Billie Burke; D: Victor Fleming; W: Noel Langley; C: Harold Rosson; M: Herbert Stothart. Jittlov, a real special-effects expert, plays himself in this personally financed production. Although brimming with inside jokes and references, this self-indulgence succeeds with its enthusiasm and ambition, despite being rather obviously self-produced. Unique special effects make it memorable. 95m/C VHS. Mike Jittlov, Richard Kaye, Page Moore, David Conrad, Steve Brodie, John Massari, Frank Laloggia, Philip Michael Thomas, Angelique Pettyjohn, Arnetia Walker, Paulette Breen, Forrest J Ackerman; D: Mike Jittlov; W: Deven Chierighino, Mike Jittlov, Richard Kaye; C: Russell Carpenter; M: John Massari.

Wolf 🦴🦴½ 1994 (R) Harrison's original script is massaged by Nichols into an upscale new age men's movement horror spectacle lacking a suitable climax. Stressed out Manhattan book editor Will Randall's (Nicholson) car hits a wolf on a country road and he's bitten when he tries to help the animal. Normally a wishy-washy guy, he notices some distinctly hairy changes to both his body and personality, leading him to make some drastic changes at work by knocking off his firm's greedy honchos and taking over. Talk about being ruthless in business. Boss' daughter Pfeiffer takes a shine to Randall's new animal magnetism, but is just visual candy. Walks a fine line between black comedy, camp, romance, and horror, though Jack baying at the moon seems sort of campy. 125m/C VHS, DVD, 8mm, Wide. Oz (Osgood) Perkins II, Jennifer Nicholson, Jack Nicholson, Michelle Pfeiffer, James Spader, Kate Nelligan, Christopher Plummer, Richard Jenkins, Om Puri, Eileen Atkins, David Hyde Pierce, Ron Rifkin, Prunella Scales; D: Mike Nichols; W: Wesley Strick, Jim Harrison; C: Giuseppe Rotunno; M: Ennio Morricone.

Woman in the Moon 🦴🦴½ By Rocket to the Moon; Girl in the Moon 1929 Assorted people embark on a trip to the moon and discover water, and an atmosphere, as well as gold. The Woman Inside 🦴½ 1983 (R) Low-budget gender-bender depicts the troubled life of a Vietnam veteran who decides on a sex-change operation to satisfy his inner yearnings. Woman of the Year 🦴🦴🦴🦴 1942 First classic Tracy/Hepburn pairing concerns the rocky marriage of a renowned political columnist and a lowly sportswriter. Baseball scene with Hepburn at her first game is delightful. Hilarious, rich entertainment that tries to answer the question "What really matters in life?" Tracy and Hepburn began a close friendship that paralleled their quarter-century celluloid partnership. Hepburn shepherded Kamin and Lardner's Oscar-winning script past studio chief Louis B. Mayer, wearing four-inch heels to press her demands. Mayer caved in, Tracy was freed from making "The Yearling," and the rest is history. 114m/B VHS, DVD. Spencer Tracy, Katharine Hepburn, Fay Bainter, Dan Tobin, Reginald Owen, Roscoe Karns, William Bendix, Minor Watson; D: George Stevens; W: Ring Lardner Jr., Michael Kanin; C: Joseph Ruttenberg; M: Franz Waxman. She's a whiz in the kitchen and her talents make her husband's (Benicio) restaurant a big success. But Izzie takes off for San Francisco when she discovers Toninho with another gal. Thanks to her culinary skills (and some magical realism), Isabella soon has her own cable cooking show and men (literally) falling at her feet. Woman, Thou Art Loosed 🦴🦴½ 2004 (R) Critics may have been divided on this pic's merits but female audiences gave it strong word-of-mouth support. Based on the self-help novel by charismatic Bishop T.D. Jakes (who plays himself), "Woman" follows the lifelong misfortunes of Michelle (a ferocious Elise), a young black victim of poverty, rape, drug addiction, and eventual imprisonment for murder. The flashback structure of the story (Jakes offers a compassionate ear as Michelle tells her story) is somewhat distracting, but Foster's script offers multi-dimensional characters even if it's a little self-conscious. 99m/C DVD. Kimberly Elise, Loretta Devine, Debbi (Deborah) Morgan, Michael Boatman, Clifton Powell, Sean Blakemore, Ricky Harris; D: Michael A. Schultz; C: Reinhart Pesche.

Women of the Prehistoric Planet woof! 1966 On a strange planet, the members of a space rescue mission face deadly perils. Typical bad sci-fi of its era, with horrid special effects, including "giant" lizards. Get this: there's one woman, and she's not of the planet in question. Women vs. Men 🦴🦴 2002 (R) Michael (Mantegna) is a typical married guy bewildered when Dana (Lahti), his wife of 20 years, begins behaving out of character. (She's basically fed up with her hubby and their boring marriage.) His best bud Bruce (Reiser) decides they should go to a strip club and commiserate but doesn't know that Dana is following them. Furious, Dana reports the guys' sleazy night out to Bruce's wife, Brita (Headley). And all that sex gets very perfunctory after awhile. 89m/C VHS. Michael Pare, Maud Adams, Eddie Velez; D: Sandra Weintraub; M: Paul Antonelli.

Women's Prison Escape 🦴½ Cell Block Girls; Thunder County 1974 Four tough broads blow the pen and are forced to high-tail it through the Everglades. Wonder Boys 🦴🦴🦴 2000 (R) Curis Hanson's excellent follow up to "L.A. Confidential" pits professor and former literary star Grady (Douglas in his finest performance in years) against a strange case of writer's block, his flamboyant New York editor (Downey), an approaching literary festival, and several converging mid-life crises. His wife's just left, he's having an affair with the school chancellor (McDormand), who's the wife of his boss and has just informed him that she's pregnant, and his prize pupil is a death-obsessed compulsive liar (Maguire) who shoots his boss's dog and steals a valuable piece of memorabilia. On paper it seems chaotic, but the screwball comedy manages to be subtle and understated. Based on Michael Chambon's novel. 112m/C VHS, DVD, Wide. Michael Douglas, Tobey Maguire, Frances McDormand, Katie Holmes, Robert Downey Jr., Richard Thomas, Rip Torn, Philip Bosco, Jane Adams; D: Curtis Hanson; W: Steven Kloves; C: Dante Spinotti; M: Christopher Young. The Wonderful World of the Brothers Grimm 🦴🦴½ 1962 Big-budget fantasy based very loosely on the Grimm Brothers' lives and three of their stories: "The Dancing Princesses," "The Cobbler and the Elves," and "The Singing Bone." Good, fun Puppetoon scenes, but leaves much else to be desired. A mega-watt cast and the ubiquitous hand of producer-director Pal are not enough to cover the flaws. The biographical parts are hokey, and the tales used are the wrong ones. Disappointing but historically interesting. The second-ever story film done in Cinerama. ♫The Theme From the Wonderful World of the Brothers Grimm; Gypsy Rhapsody; Christmas Land; Ah-Oom;

Above the Stars; Dee-Are-A-Gee-O-En (Dragon). 134m/C VHS, Wide. Laurence Harvey, Karl-Heinz Boehm, Claire Bloom, Buddy Hackett, Terry-Thomas, Russ Tamblyn, Yvette Mimieux, Oscar Homolka, Walter Slezak, Beulah Bondi, Martita Hunt, Otto Kruger, Barbara Eden, Jim Backus, Arnold Stang; D: Henry Levin, George Pal; W: William Roberts; C: Paul Vogel. Wonderland 🦴🦴 1999 Slice of London pic covers four November days in the lives of sisters Debbie (Henderson), Nadia (McKee), and Molly (Parker) and their daily struggles—single parenthood, bad dates, pregnancy, separation, unemployment, and their equally frustrated parents. Wonderland 🦴🦴 2003 (R) Inferior true-crime drama about down-on-his-luck, druggie porn star John C. Holmes (Kilmer) who got mixed up in a 1981 quadruple homicide at 8763 Wonderland Avenue, where Holmes partied and bought his drugs. Kudrow, in a standout performance, plays his long-suffering wife Sharon and Bosworth his much-younger girlfriend Dawn. While emphasis is on the crime and what role Holmes played in it, pic may have benefited from further exploring the relationship between Sharon and Dawn, who became life-long friends. The anatomically gifted Holmes, is adequately portrayed by Kilmer. Told in confused, back and forward chronology, events and motivations muddle an interesting story much better articulated in director Anderson's fictitious but far superior ode to the porno industry, "Boogie Nights." 99m/C VHS, DVD. US Val Kilmer, Kate (Catherine) Bosworth, Lisa Kudrow, Dylan McDermott, Eric Bogosian, Josh(ua) Lucas, Christina Applegate, Tim Blake Nelson, Ted Levine, Natasha Gregson Wagner, Janeane Garofalo, Franky G., M.C. Tim wants to do the right thing and be honorable, but Woo seduces, endangers, and humiliates him at every turn. When Tim finally stands up for himself, she has a change of heart and appreciates his better qualities. Somewhat mean-spirited comedy trods familiar urban cliches and blind-date disaster territory, but Pinkett Smith's turn could be a star-maker. 80m/C VHS, DVD. Jada Pinkett Smith, Tommy Davidson, Duane Martin, Dave Chappelle, LL Cool J, Paula Jai Parker, Darrell Heath, Pam Grier, Isaac Hayes; D: Daisy von Scherler Mayer; W: David C(lark) Johnson; C: Jean Lepine; M: Michel Colombier.

Good cast is left with little interesting to do in this likable, but bland, nostalgia-fest. 107m/C VHS, DVD, Wide. Omar Epps, Sean Nelson, Richard T. Jones, Taye Diggs, Trent Cameron, Malinda Williams, Duane Finley, Sanaa Lathan, De'Aundre Bonds, LisaRaye, Cynthia Martells, Tamala Jones, Elayne J. The Woodsman 🦴🦴 2004 (R) Kassell's feature debut is not for the faint-hearted. How do you not depict a convicted pedophile of young girls as a monster? It's a measure of Bacon's talents as Walter that if you can't sympathize with his character (and you're not asked to), you do come to some understanding of his torment. Recently paroled after a 12-year prison term, Walter finds a job in a lumberyard and an apartment opposite a grade school. As Walter struggles to keep his sexual impulses in check, he starts his first adult relationship with equally scarred co-worker Vickie (Bacon's wife Sedgwick), even as receptionist Mary-Kay (Eve) and cop Lucas (Mos Def) become suspicious of withdrawn Walter's behavior. Disturbing without becoming explicit and with a sliver of hopefulness in its resolution. Co-writer Fechter adapted from his play. 87m/C DVD. US Kevin Bacon, Kyra Sedgwick, Eve, Mos Def, David Alan Grier, Benjamin Bratt, Michael Shannon, Hannah Pilkes, Carlos Leon; D: Nicole Kassell; W: Nicole Kassell, Steven Fechter; C: Xavier Perez Grobet; M: Nathan Larson.

Word Wars: Tiles and Tribulations on the Scrabble Circuit 🦴🦴🦴 2004 Four unconventional competitors make their way to the 2002 National Scrabble Tournament in San Diego pursing the $25,000 grand prize. The characters are authentic oddballs, their world becomes more arcane and peculiar the longer you're in it, and the suspense approaches desperation at the end, all of which makes the film watchable in this age of reality TV. 80m/C DVD. D: Eric Chaikin, Julian Petrillo; C: Laela Kilbourn; M: Thor Madsen.

Tess gets her chance to shine when Katherine breaks a leg and she strikes a business deal with Jack Trainer (Ford)that turns to romance. A 1980s Cinderella story that's sexy, funny, and sharply written and directed. Nice work by Ford, but this is definitely Griffith's movie. The World According to Garp 🦴🦴🦴 1982 (R) Comedy turns to tragedy in this relatively faithful version of John Irving's popular (and highly symbolic) novel, adapted by Steve Tesich. Chronicles the life of T.S. Garp, a struggling everyman beset by the destructive forces of modern society. Nevertheless, Garp maintains his optimism even as his life unravels around him. At the core of the film is a subplot involving a group of extreme feminists inspired in part by Garp's mother, the author of "A Sexual Suspect." Close and Lithgow (as a giant transsexual) are spectacular, while Williams is low-key and tender as the beleagured Garp. Ultimately pointless, perhaps, but effectively and intelligently so. 136m/C VHS, DVD, Wide. Robin Williams, Mary Beth Hurt, John Lithgow, Glenn Close, Hume Cronyn, Jessica Tandy, Swoosie Kurtz, Amanda Plummer, Warren Berlinger, Brandon Maggart, George Roy Hill; D: George Roy Hill; W: Steve Tesich; C: Miroslav Ondricek; M: David Shire. A World Apart 🦴🦴🦴½ 1988 (PG) Cinematographer Menges' first directoral effort is a blistering, insightful drama told from the point of view of a 13-year-old white girl living in South Africa, oblivious to apartheid until her crusading journalist mother is arrested under the 90-Day Detention Act, under which she might remain in prison permanently. Political morality tale is also a look at the family-vs-cause choices activists must make. Heavily lauded, with good reason; the autobiographical script is based on Slovo's parents, persecuted South African journalists Joe Slovo and Ruth First. 114m/C VHS, DVD. GB Barbara Hershey, Jodhi May, Linda Mvusi, David Suchet, Jeroen Krabbe, Paul Freeman, Tim Roth, Jude Akuwidike, Albee Lesotho; D: Chris Menges; W: Shawn Slovo; C: Peter Biziou; M: Hans Zimmer. The World Gone Mad 🦴🦴½ The Public Be Hanged; Public Be Damned 1933 During Prohibition, a tough reporter discovers the district attorney is the intended victim of a murder plot involving crooked Wall Street types. Full circle: this interesting drama of white-collar crime is again topical, though dialogue heavy and desultory. 70m/B VHS, DVD. Pat O'Brien, Louis Calhern, J. Carrol Naish; D: Christy Cabanne.

World Gone Wild 🦴½ 1988 (R) Action yarn about a post-apocalyptic world of the future where an evil cult leader brainwashes his disciples. Together they battle a small band of eccentrics for the world's last water source. Stale rehash (with ineffective satiric elements) of the Mad Max genre, served with Ant for campy appeal. 95m/C VHS. Bruce Dern, Michael Pare, Adam Ant, Catherine Mary Stewart, Rick Podell; D: Lee H. Katzin; C: Don Burgess.

The World in His Arms 🦴🦴½ 1952 Action and romance, circa 1850. Seal hunter Jonathan Clark (Peck) and his crew are in San Francisco when he meets beautiful Countess Marina Selanova (Blyth), who's fleeing an arranged marriage and is anxious to join her Uncle (Rumann), who happens to be the Governor General of Alaska (which is under Russian control). Young; W: Jackie Collins.

The World Is Not Enough 🦴🦴½ 1999 (PG-13) Brosnan returns in the 19th James Bond adventure in which 007 is sent to protect Elektra King (Marceau), the daughter of a murdered oil tycoon who was also an old friend of M's (Dench). The threat appears to come from terrorist Renard (Carlyle), who has a bullet in the brain courtesy of MI6 that has made him impervious to pain. Renard's playing the nuclear explosion card, which leads to this episode's Bond girl, nuclear weapons expert (!) Dr. Christmas Jones (Richards), who has minimal impact but looks fetching and (of course) falls for the dashing spy's charms. The numerous action sequences overwhelm the characters and Bond has little to pit himself against since the villains are so low-key. There is a welcome darker edge to both Bond's character and the plot that the franchise should build on, rather than trying to top its death-defying stunts each time. 125m/C VHS, DVD, Wide. Pierce Brosnan, Sophie Marceau, Denise Richards, Robert Carlyle, Judi Dench, John Cleese, Desmond Llewelyn, Robbie Coltrane, Samantha Bond, Michael Kitchen, Colin Salmon, Maria Grazia Cucinotta, David Calder, Serena Scott Thomas, Ulrich Thomsen, Goldie; D: Michael Apted; W: Neal Purvis, Robert Wade, Bruce Feirstein; C: Adrian Biddle; M: David Arnold. Golden Raspberries '99: Worst Support. Actress (Richards).

The World of Apu 🦴🦴🦴🦴 Apu Sansat; Apur Sansar 1959 Finale of director Ray's acclaimed Apu trilogy (following "Pather Panchali" and "Aparajito"). Aspiring writer Apu drops out of the university for want of money and takes up with an old chum. An odd circumstance leads him to marry his friend's cousin, whom he comes to love. She dies in childbirth (though her baby boy lives); Apu is deeply distraught, destroys the novel he was working on, and becomes a wanderer. His friend finds him five years later and helps him begin again with his young son. Wonderfully human, hopeful story told by a world-class director. From the novel "Aparajito" by B. Bandopadhaya. In Bengali with English subtitles. 103m/B VHS, DVD. IN Soumitra Chatterjee, Sharmila Tagore, Alok Charkravarty, Swapan Makerji; D: Satyajit Ray; W: Satyajit Ray; M: Ravi Shankar.

The World of Henry Orient 🦴🦴🦴½ 1964 Charming, eccentric comedy about two 15-year-old girls who, madly in love with an egotistical concert pianist, pursue him all around New York City. Sellers is hilarious, Walker and Spaeth are adorable as his teen groupies; Bosley and Lansbury are great as Walker's indulgent parents. For anyone who has ever been uncontrollably infatuated. Screenplay by the father/daughter team, Nora and Nunnally Johnson, based on Nora Johnson's novel. 106m/C VHS, DVD, Wide. Peter Sellers, Tippy Walker, Merrie Spaeth, Tom Bosley, Angela Lansbury, Paula Prentiss, Phyllis Thaxter, Bibi Osterwald; D: George Roy Hill; W: Nunnally Johnson, Nora Johnson; C: Boris Kaufman; M: Elmer Bernstein.

A World of Strangers 🦴🦴🦴 1962 A harsh look at apartheid through the eyes of an Englishman who has traveled to South Africa to manage a publishing house. Filmed in strict secrecy in Johannesburg due to the film's aggressive condemnation of the practice. Based on a novel by Nadine Gordimer. 89m/B VHS. DK Ivan Jackson, Zakes Mokae; D: Henning Carlsen.

The World of Suzie Wong 🦴🦴 1960 Asian prostitute Kwan plays cat-and-mouse with American painter Holden. She lies to him about her profession, her family, and herself. His association with her ruins relationships in his life. Why, then, does he not get a clue? Good question, not answered by this soap opera that would be a serious drama. Offensively sanitized picture of the world of prostitution in an Asian metropolis. On the other hand, it's all nicely shot, much of it on location in Hong Kong. Based on Paul Osborn's play which was taken from Richard Mason's novel. 129m/C VHS, DVD. GB William Holden, Nancy Kwan, Sylvia Syms, Michael Wilding, Laurence Naismith, Jacqueline "Jackie" Chan; D: Richard Quine; C: Geoffrey Unsworth.

World of the Depraved 🦴 Mundo Depravados 1967 Tango (Storm) runs an exercise club for young lovelies that are systematically being stalked by the mysterious full moon sex killer. Enter police detectives Riley and Hamilton (Decker, Reed), joking types who peep on their charges through keyholes, etc. When the plot finally gets around to the issue of the killer, the point of the movie has already been made clear. Silly, trivial, sophomoric humor lacking a trace of sincerity. Volume 6 of Frank Henenlotter's Sexy Shockers series. 73m/C VHS, DVD. Tempest Storm, Johnnie Decker, Larry Reed; D: Herbert Jeffries; W: Herbert Jeffries.

World Trade Center 🦴🦴🦴 2006 (PG-13) Stone directs a 9/11 drama about John McLoughlin (Cage) and Will Jimeno (Pena), two Port Authority policemen trapped in the World Trade Center after they went in as part of the rescue team. Film follows their efforts at survival and escape with the efforts of others to save them, and the fears of their families. Stone shot in chronological order to heighten the reality and tension and had the survivors and their families on the set as well. He puts aside the cynicism and paranoia for an elegantly told tale of extraordinary heroism by ordinary people. 129m/C DVD. US Nicolas Cage, Michael Pena, Maria Bello, Maggie Gyllenhaal, Jay Hernandez, Stephen Dorff, Michael Shannon; D: Oliver Stone; W: Andrea Berloff; C: Seamus McGarvey; M: Craig Armstrong.

World Traveler 🦴🦴½ 2001 (R) One day, thirtysomething NYC architect Cal (Crudup) leaves his wife and son, gets into the family station wagon, and hits the road to drive cross country in this frustrating film. Although Crudup is a fine actor, the viewer never learns Cal's motives for leaving his life behind except that he's not the nicest guy around, considering the way he treats some of the people he meets on his trip, including construction worker Carl (Derricks) whose marriage Cal damages, and various female hitchhikers. Not a lot really happens as Cal searches for himself (apparently) and the film ultimately falls flat. 104m/C VHS, DVD. US CA Billy Crudup, Julianne Moore, Cleavant Derricks, David Keith, Mary McCormack, James LeGros, Karen Allen, Liane Balaban; D: Bart Freundlich; W: Bart Freundlich; C: Terry Stacey; M: Clint Mansell.

Alonzo. TV

Executive branch showdown ensues between U.S. prez Hudson and Soviet chief Keith. Director Boris Sagal was killed on location, whereupon Greene took over, and shooting was moved indoors with dramatic tension lost in the transition. 186m/C VHS. Brian Keith, David Soul, Rock Hudson, Cathy Lee Crosby, Katherine Helmond, Robert Prosky, James Hampton, Richard Yniguez, Herbert Jefferson Jr.; D: David Greene; W: Robert L. Joseph. TV

Carleton, Jean De Limur, William Marion, Milla Davenport; D: Harry Garson.

The World's Fastest Indian 🦴🦴🦴 2005 (PG-13) Burt Munro (a refreshingly un-scary Hopkins) is the town "crazy old guy," a kooky New Zealander with a dream of setting a land-speed motorcycle record at Bonneville Flats, Utah. The Indian in the title is the bike, a 1920 Indian Scout, which, with Munro's constant tinkering, flies at a blistering 201 mph across the desert with Munro at its helm. A true story, told here by the same director of the 1971 documentary about Munro, "Offerings to the God of Speed." Mildly schmaltzy, but well-told and all heart. 127m/C DVD. US NZ Anthony Hopkins, Diane Ladd, Aaron Murphy, Paul Rodriguez, Chris(topher) Williams, Christopher Lawford, Annie Whittle; D: Roger Donaldson; W: Roger Donaldson; C: David Gribble; M: J. Peter Robinson.

The World's Greatest Athlete 🦴🦴 1973 (G) Lame Disney comedy about a Tarzan-like jungle-man (Vincent) recruited by an unsuccessful American college coach (Amos) and his bumbling assistant (Conway). Fun special effects, weak script add up to mediocre family fare. Cameo by Howard Cosell as—who else?—himself. 89m/C VHS, DVD. Jan-Michael Vincent, Tim Conway, John Amos, Roscoe Lee Browne, Dayle Haddon; Cameos: Howard Cosell; D: Robert Scheerer; W: Dee Caruso; M: Marvin Hamlisch.

World's Greatest Lover 🦴🦴½ 1977 (PG) Milwaukee baker Rudi Valentine, played oft-hilariously by Wilder, tries to make it big in 1920s Hollywood. He has a screen test as a Hollywood movie sheik, but his wife (Kane) leaves him for the real McCoy. Episodic and uneven, it's alternately uproarious, touching and downright raunchy. 89m/C VHS, DVD. Gene Wilder, Carol Kane, Dom DeLuise, Fritz Feld, Carl Ballantine, Michael Huddleston, Matt Collins, Ronny Graham; D: Gene Wilder; W: Gene Wilder.

The World's Oldest Living Bridesmaid 🦴🦴½ 1992 Hokey romantic comedy about a successful woman attorney who just can't find Mr. Right. The Would-Be Gentleman 🦴🦴½ 1958 The Comedie Francaise troupe performs Moliere's famous farce-comedy. Valuable as a record of the famous troupe on stage. When they're long gone, our grandkids can enjoy this. We can too (if we can't afford the trip to France), though it's less a film than a filming of a play. In French with English subtitles. 93m/C VHS. FR Louis Seigner, Jean Meyer, Jean Piat.

Wrestling Ernest Hemingway 🦴🦴 1993 (PG-13) A shy barber and a rollicking sea captain, both 75 and retired, form an unlikely companionship in a Florida retirement mecca. Duvall is the persnickety introvert who quietly follows routine and Harris is the would-be ladies' man whose endless tall tales include having tangled with Papa Hemingway in his youth. They share walks in the park, little league baseball from the bleachers, and coffee klatches that reveal the emptiness of their lives. Director Haines' focus on the principals' emotional baggage considerably dampens the proceedings. Depression in the elderly may be a topic that is not quite ready to come out of Hollywood's closet. 123m/C VHS. Robert Duvall, Richard Harris, Piper Laurie, Shirley MacLaine, Sandra Bullock; D: Randa Haines; W: Steve Conrad; C: Lajos Koltai; M: Michael Convertino.

Then, when Claire becomes pregnant by the local garage owner (Sanders), Maddy finds herself growing up even more as she comes to the aid of her newfound family, which is beginning to show signs of serious strain. Unassuming portrait of four very different women is a worthy effort, with the leads displaying convincing chemistry. 95m/C VHS, DVD. Aleksa Palladino, Joely Richardson, Claire Bloom, Adrienne Shelly, Sam Trammell, Jay O. Sanders, Tom Guiry, Sloane Shelton, Angelica Torn, Schuyler Grant; D: Laurie Weltz; W: Laurie Weltz; C: Richard Dallett; M: Andrew Hollander.

Taken almost entirely from the real-life case of mild-mannered bass player "Manny" Balestrero; probes his anguish at being wrongly accused; and showcases Miles (later to appear in "Psycho") and her character's agony. Harrowing, especially following more lighthearted Hitchcock fare such as "The Trouble with Harry." Wrong Turn 🦴½ 2003 (R) Six friends are involved in a car crash that strands them in the West Virginia mountains where they are hunted by disfigured, inbred, cannibalistic mountain men. Typical victim-by-number horror flick offers no twists on the genre and only slight wit by its doomed cast. Don't expect to see this one on the West Virginia Tourist Board's recommended list. 85m/C VHS, DVD. US Eliza Dushku, Jeremy Sisto, Emmanuelle Chriqui, Desmond Harrington, Lindy Booth, Kevin Zegers, Julian Richings, Garry Robbins, Ted Clark, Yvonne Gaudry, David Huband, Joel Harris, Wayne Robson, James Downing; D: Rob Schmidt; W: Alan B. McElroy; C: John Bartley; M: Elia Cmiral.

The Wrong Woman 🦴🦴½ 1995 (PG-13) When Melanie Brooke's (McKeon) boss is murdered, she's framed to take by rap by the company's sleazy comptroller (Field). Melanie begins a desperate hunt for the real culprit with the killer and the cops both after her. 90m/C VHS. Nancy McKeon, Chelsea Field.

Wrongfully Accused 🦴½ 1998 (PG-13) Yet another Nielsen spoof, with "The Fugitive" (along with several other movies) the target this time around. He's violinist Ryan Harrison who has a tryst with socialite Lauren Goodhue (Le Brock) and then gets convicted of her husband Hibbing's (York) murder. Harrison escapes, determined to find the actual killer—the one-armed, one-legged, and one-eyed man—while being hunted by Marshal Fergus Falls (Crenna). This is one genre that's definitely had its day, with more clunkers than chuckles. 85m/C VHS, DVD. Leslie Nielsen, Richard Crenna, Kelly Le Brock, Melinda McGraw, Michael York, Sandra Bernhard; D: Pat Proft; W: Pat Proft; C: Glen MacPherson; M: Bill Conti.

Wuthering Heights 🦴🦴🦴🦴 1939 The first screen adaptation of Emily Bronte's romantic novel about the doomed love between Heathcliff and Cathy on the Yorkshire moors. Dynamically captures the madness and ferocity of the classic novel, remaining possibly the greatest romance ever filmed. Excellent performances from Wyler's sure direction, particularly Olivier's, which made him a star, and Oberon in her finest hour as the exquisite but selfish Cathy. Remade twice, in 1953 (by Luis Bunuel) and in 1970. 104m/B VHS, DVD. Laurence Olivier, Merle Oberon, David Niven, Geraldine Fitzgerald, Flora Robson, Donald Crisp, Cecil Kellaway, Leo G. Carroll, Miles Mander, Hugh Williams; D: William Wyler; W: Ben Hecht, Charles MacArthur; C: Gregg Toland; M: Alfred Newman. Oscars '39: B&W Cinematog.; AFI '98: Top 100; N.Y. Film Critics '39: Film.

Wuthering Heights 🦴🦴½ Abismos de Pasion; Cumbres Borrascosas 1953 Bunuel tackles the Bronte classic during his Mexican period, and comes up with a film containing little passion, but much of the customary Bunuel manic cynicism. The 1939 version is far superior, but fans of Bunuel will probably enjoy this one. Loosely adapted; in Spanish with English subtitles. Remade in another English-language version in 1970. 90m/B VHS. MX Irasema Dilian, Jorge Mistral, Lilia Prado, Ernesto Alonso; D: Luis Bunuel.

Wuthering Heights 🦴🦴½ 1970 (G) The third screening of the classic Emily Bronte romance about two doomed lovers. Fuest's version features excellent photography, and Calder-Marshall's and Dalton's performances are effective, but fail even to approach the intensity and pathos of the 1939 film original (or of the book). Filmed on location in Yorkshire, England. 105m/C VHS, DVD, Wide. GB Anna Calder-Marshall, Timothy Dalton, Harry Andrews, Pamela Brown, Judy Cornwell, James Cossins, Rosalie Crutchley, Hilary Dwyer, Hugh Griffith, Ian Ogilvy; D: Robert Fuest; W: Patrick Tilley; C: John Coquillon; M: Michel Legrand.

Wuthering Heights 🦴🦴½ 1998 Yet another adaptation of Emily Bronte's 1847 gothic romance. Cavanah plays the embittered Heathcliff while Brady is the wilfull Cathy, whose desire for a life of ease places them both on a tragic path that haunts them even after death. 120m/C VHS. GB Robert Cavanah, Orla Brady, Crispin Bonham Carter, Peter Davison. TV

Wyatt Earp 🦴🦴½ 1994 (PG-13) Revisionist epic suffers from bad timing as it follows "Tombstone" in telling the story of tarnished badge Earp (Costner), his brothers, and tubercular friend Doc Holliday (Quaid). Costner is barely believable as a 20-something lad, but fares better as he ages. Forty pounds lighter and likely delusional from lack of food, Quaid is unrecognizable but terrific, hacking his way to supporting Oscar territory. 'Course, Val Kilmer got there first. Huge cast finds screen time precious, even though film is some 40 minutes too long, due to prolonged intro to early Wyatt life. Originally envisioned as a TV miniseries till sheriff Costner took a hankering to bring tall tale to the big screen. Filmed on location in Sante Fe, New Mexico. For the full Earp effect, see it with "Tombstone" and relive the legend. 191m/C VHS, DVD, Wide. James Gammon, Randle Mell, Lewis Smith, Ian Bohen, Alison Elliott, MacKenzie Astin, John Dennis Johnston, Jack Kehler, Kris Kamm, Michael Huddleston, John Doe, Kevin Costner, Dennis Quaid, Gene Hackman, Jeff Fahey, Mark Harmon, Michael Madsen, Catherine O'Hara, Bill Pullman, Isabella Rossellini, Tom Sizemore, JoBeth Williams, Mare Winningham, Betty Buckley, Adam Baldwin, Rex Linn, Todd Allen, David Andrews, Linden Ashby, Annabeth Gish, Joanna Going, Martin Kove, Tea Leoni, James (Jim) Caviezel, Karen Grassle, Owen Roizman; D: Lawrence Kasdan; W: Dan Gordon, Lawrence Kasdan; C: Owen Roizman; M: James Newton Howard. Golden Raspberries '94: Worst Remake/Sequel, Worst Actor (Costner).

Wyatt Earp: Return to Tombstone 🦴🦴½ 1994 O'Brian, who starred in TV's "The Life and Legend of Wyatt Earp" from 1955 to 1961, returns to Tombstone in 1914. Colorized clips from the series are used for flashbacks. Filmed on location in Tombstone, Arizona. 94m/C VHS. Hugh O'Brian, Bruce Boxleitner, Paul Brinegar, Harry Carey Jr., Bo Hopkins, Martin Kove, Don Meredith, Alex Hyde-White, Jay Underwood. TV

Wyoming Outlaw 🦴🦴 1939 Based on an actual incident, the story revolves around a small-town man who kills an outlaw. Barry, in the role that made him a western star, is forced into crime after a corrupt politician extorts money from him in exchange for a job. Lincoln, the screen's first Tarzan, appears in a supporting role. 62m/B VHS. John Wayne, Ray Corrigan, Raymond Hatton, Donald (Don "Red") Barry, Adele Pearce, Leroy Mason, Charles Middleton, Elmo Lincoln, Jack Ingram, Yakima Canutt, Curley Dresden; D: George Sherman.

The Wyvern Mystery 🦴 2000 Confusing and stodgy Gothic mystery based on an 1869 novel by Sheridan Le Fanu. As a child, Alice is taken in by Squire Fairfield (Jacobi) when her tenant father dies. Alice grows up into a beautiful young woman (Watts) and the Squire has lustful designs on her but is bested when Alice runs off and marries Fairfield's son Charles (Glen). The newlyweds wind up at an isolated Fairfield property that apparently has a curse on it and a now-pregnant Alice begins to have nightmares of tragedy. Watts is demure and Jacobi chews the scenery; everything else is a follow-the-numbers folly. 118m/C VHS, DVD. GB Naomi Watts, Derek Jacobi, Iain Glen, Jack Davenport, Aisling O'Sullivan, Ellie Haddington; D: Alex Pillai; W: David Pirie; C: Simon Maggs; M: Philip Appleby. TV

The X-Files 🦴🦴½ The X-Files: Fight the Future 1998 (PG-13) The TV series' fifth-season cliffhanger continues in the big screen adaptation, which supposedly has a plot clear enough so viewers unfamiliar with the series can still figure out what's going on. Creator Chris Carter uses the show's "mythology" episodes to have FBI agents Mulder (Duchovny) and Scully (Anderson) battling a global conspiracy involving the Cigarette-Smoking Man (Davis) and an international syndicate, colonizing aliens, and related paranormal perplexities. The big budget allows for some big action sequences and special effects and the two leads have a comfortable partnership. 120m/C VHS, DVD. David Duchovny, Gillian Anderson, Martin Landau, William B. Davis, John Neville, Armin Mueller-Stahl, Blythe Danner, Mitch Pileggi, Terry O'Quinn, Jeffrey DeMunn, Lucas Black, Glenne Headly; D: Rob Bowman; W: Chris Carter, Frank Spotnitz; C: Ward Russell; M: Mark Snow.

X from Outer Space 🦴 1967 (PG) A space voyage to Mars brings back a giant rampaging creature. Badly dubbed. 85m/C VHS. JP Eiji Okada, Peggy Neal, Toshiya Wazaki, Itoko Harada, Shinichi Yanagisawa, Franz Gruber, Keisuke Sonoi, Mike Daning, Torahiko Hamada; D: Nazui Nihonmatsu.

X Marks the Spot 🦴🦴 1942 When a police sergeant is killed, his detective son investigates his murder. He's drawn into a crime ring which smuggles rubber (a scarce commodity during WWII). Quick pacing enlivens standard cliches. 55m/B VHS, DVD. Damian O'Flynn, Helen Parrish, Dick Purcell, Jack La Rue, Neil Hamilton, Robert E. Homans, Anne Jeffreys, Dick Wessel, Vince Barnett; D: George Sherman.

X-Men 🦴🦴½ 2000 (PG-13) The Marvel Comics characters, who were born with genetic mutations that give them superpowers, get their shot at the big screen. Wheelchair-bound telepath Charles Xavier (Stewart), AKA Professor X, runs a school to help others learn to use their mutant powers. The good guys, who seeks to work with humans, fight against the Magneto (McKellen)-led Brotherhood, who feel mankind is expendable. The story is simple enough for newbies to follow and takes itself seriously (no camp allowed) but doesn't have a lot of surprises and, except for Wolverine (Jackman), the characters aren't very involving. The setup calls for a sequel, which may flesh things out. 104m/C VHS, DVD, Wide. Patrick Stewart, Ian McKellen, Famke Janssen, Hugh Jackman, James Marsden, Halle Berry, Rebecca Romijn-Stamos, Ray Park, Tyler Mane, Anna Paquin, Bruce Davison, Shawn Ashmore; D: Bryan Singer; W: David Hayter; C: Newton Thomas (Tom) Sigel; M: Michael Kamen.

X-Men: The Last Stand 🦴½ 2006 (PG-13) Last stand? More like "can't stand." Hack-a-licious director Brett Ratner tarnishes the legacy of Bryan Singer's above-average superhero series with this lazy, unimaginative bore. Forget all the subtlety and coolness from the first two X-Men movies, because Ratner's replaced them with cheap-looking FX, incoherent storytelling, and barely disguised misogyny. Professor X's merry mutants have to contend with a resurrected Jean Grey (reborn as the all powerful Phoenix) and a new "cure" that threatens to wipe out mutantkind forever. Sounds intriguing, but you won't believe how often your eyes will involuntarily roll as major characters die stupidly, plot holes run rampant, and Wolverine cries like a wuss every ten minutes. 104m/C DVD. US Patrick Stewart, Ian McKellen, Hugh Jackman, Famke Janssen, Halle Berry, Anna Paquin, Rebecca Romijn-Stamos, Kelsey Grammer, Ben Foster, James Marsden, Shawn Ashmore, Daniel Cudmore, Ellen Page, Aaron Stanford, Vinnie Jones, Dania Ramirez, Olivia Williams, Shohreh Aghdashloo, Cameron Bright, Michael Murphy, Bill Duke, Eric Dane, Haley Ramm, Josef Sommer, Connor Widdows, Shauna Kain, Ken Leung, Kea Wong, Anthony Heald, Makenzie Vega; D: Brett Ratner; W: Zak Penn, Simon Kinberg; C: Dante Spinotti; M: John Powell.

X: The Man with X-Ray Eyes 🦴🦴🦴 The Man with the X-Ray Eyes; X 1963 First-rate Corman has Milland gain power to see through solid materials. Predates Little Caesars campaign. 79m/C VHS, DVD, Wide. Ray Milland, Diana Van Der Vlis, Harold J. Stone, John Hoyt, Don Rickles, Dick Miller, Jonathan Haze, Morris Ankrum, Barboura Morris; D: Roger Corman; W: Ray Russell, Robert Dillon; C: Floyd Crosby; M: Les Baxter.

X The Unknown 🦴½ 1956 Geologist Adam Royston (Jagger) is sent to investigate a radioactive spot where a mysterious and deadly fissure has appeared. Seems a mud something that feeds on radiation bursts out of the Earth's surface every 50 years or so and kills. Now, it's expanding its territory. 78m/B VHS, DVD. Dean Jagger, Leo McKern, Edward Chapman, John Harvey, William Lucas, Anthony Newley; D: Leslie Norman; W: Jimmy Sangster; C: Gerald Gibbs; M: James Bernard.

X2: X-Men United 🦴🦴🦴 X-Men 2 2003 (PG-13) The regulars are back as Prof. Xavier's X-Men must join forces with Magneto's mutants to battle a greater evil: a power-mad, mutant-hating general (Cox) out to find and eliminate all mutants. Cox is great as the general, full of self-righteousness and silky menace, properly denying his character the small moments of sympathy allowed to McKellan's Magneto. The story is better than in the original, even though it jams as much, if not more exposition into the plot and lingers too long on the teen romance between Rogue and Iceman. Script provides a well-executed and exciting central plot, while leaving plenty of threads and new characters that audiences will be anxious to follow in "X-Men 3." Special effects are fantastic, but they don't overshadow the story. 134m/C VHS, DVD. US Patrick Stewart, Ian McKellen, Famke Janssen, Hugh Jackman, James Marsden, Halle Berry, Rebecca Romijn-Stamos, Anna Paquin, Shawn Ashmore, Brian Cox, Alan Cumming, Kelly Hu, Bruce Davison, Aaron Stanford, Katie Stuart, Cotter Smith, Daniel Cudmore, Peter Wingfield, Michael Reid MacKay, Keely Purvis, Jill Teed, Alf Humphreys, James Kirk; D: Bryan Singer; W: Michael Dougherty, Daniel P. "Dan" Harris; C: Newton Thomas (Tom) Sigel; M: John Ottman.

X, Y & Zee 🦴½ Zee & Co 1972 (R) A brassy, harsh version of the menage a trois theme, wherein the vicious wife (Taylor) of a philanderer (Caine) decides to avenge herself by seducing his mistress. An embarrassment for everyone involved. 110m/C VHS. Michael Caine, Elizabeth Taylor, Susannah York, Margaret Leighton; D: Brian G. Hutton; W: Edna O'Brien; C: Billy Williams.

Xanadu woof! 1980 (PG) Dorky star-vehicle remake (of 1947's "Down to Earth") eminently of its era, which is now better forgotten. Newton-John is a muse who descends to Earth to help two friends open a roller disco. In the process she proves that as an actor, she's a singer. Kelly attempts to soft shoe some grace into the proceedings, though he seems mystified as anyone as to why he's in the movie. Don Bluth adds an animated sequence. ♫I'm Alive; The Fall; Don't Walk Away; All Over the World; Xanadu; Magic; Suddenly; Dancing; Suspended in Time. 96m/C VHS, DVD. Olivia Newton-John, Michael Beck, Gene Kelly, Sandahl Bergman; D: Robert Greenwald; W: Richard Danus; C: Victor Kemper; M: Barry DeVorzon. Golden Raspberries '80: Worst Director (Greenwald).

Xchange 🦴🦴🦴 X Change 2000 (R) In the near future, bio-technology advances allow people to transfer their minds into the bodies of others. The process called "floating" lets anyone "travel" by having his or her consciousness transmitted anywhere in the world. When anti-corporate terrorists assassinate a powerful CEO, Baldwin is called in to investigate the murder. He is transported to San Francisco, where he ends up occupying the body of the lead terrorist (MacLachlan). Then he must fight to reclaim his body. The concept is more than compelling, and the action sequences generally overcome the relative low budget of the production. 110m/C VHS, DVD, Wide. CA Stephen Baldwin, Kyle MacLachlan, Kim Coates, Pascale Bussieres; D: Allan Moyle. VIDEO

Xica 🦴🦴🦴 1976 A diamond rush in 18th century Brazil transformed that country's interior into a place of undreamed wealth and excess. Black slave Xica uses her sexual allure to rise out of poverty and capture the attentions of Joao, the governor of the diamond-mining town. She gleefully wields her increasing wealth and power, becoming the unofficial Empress of Brazil. Reportedly based on a real-life character. In Portuguese with English subtitles. 109m/C VHS. BR Zeze Motta, Walmor Chagas, Altair Lima, Jose Wilker, Marcus Vinicius, Elke Maravilha; D: Carlos Diegues; W: Joao Felicio.

Xiu Xiu: The Sent Down Girl 🦴🦴🦴 Tian Yu 1997 (R) To foil Chinese censors, first-time director Chen was forced into guerilla filmmaking (accounting for the film's somewhat rough look) in this moving effort set during the Cultural Revolution. In 1975, teenaged city girl Xiu-Xiu (Lu Lu) is sent down to a remote corner of Tibet to learn horse training from peasant Lao Jin (Lopsang). She expects only to be gone six-months but is instead stuck, forgotten, on the plains. In desperation, Xiu-Xiu begins to trade sexual favors in exchange for the chance to return home. Based on the novel "Tian Yu" (Heavenly Bath) by co-writer Geling. Mandarin with subtitles. 99m/C VHS, DVD. Lu Lu, Lopsang; D: Joan Chen; W: Joan Chen, Yan Geling; C: Lu Yue; M: Johnny Chen.

Xtro woof! 1983 (R) An Englishman, abducted by aliens three years before, returns to his family with a deadly, transforming disease. Slime-bucket splatter flick notable for the scene where a woman gives birth to a full-grown man, and various sex slashings. 80m/C VHS, DVD. GB Philip Sayer, Bernice Stegers, Danny Brainin, Simon Nash, Maryam D'Abo, David Cardy, Anna Wing, Peter Mandell, Robert Fyfe; D: Harry Bromley Davenport; W: Robert Smith, Iain Cassie; C: John Metcalfe; M: Harry Bromley Davenport.

Xtro 2: The Second Encounter 🦴🦴 1991 (R) Research facility conducts an experiment to transfer people to a parallel dimension. Out of the three researchers sent to the other side, only one returns, unconscious. Turns out that he is playing host to a biohazardous creature brought over from the other dimension who escapes into the air shafts and threatens to kill everyone in the building. One more problem: if the creature isn't killed, the computer system will fill the building with radiation. Sound familiar? It should, because this is a low-budget remake of "Alien." Good photography, adequate acting, but Vincent just isn't credible as a brilliant scientist. A sequel to "Xtro" in name only. 92m/C VHS, DVD. CA Jan-Michael Vincent, Paul Koslo, Tara Buckman, Jano Frandsen, Nicholas Lea, W.F. Wadden, Rolf Reynolds, Nic Amoroso, Tracy Westerholm; D: Harry Bromley Davenport.

Xtro 3: Watch the Skies 🦴🦴 1995 (R) Military unit arrives at a remote island where the government has covered up a UFO landing. However, the island is now inhabited by a pissed-off alien whose mate has been killed. 90m/C VHS, DVD. Sal Landi, Jim Hanks, Robert Culp, Andrew Divoff, Karen Moncrieff; D: Harry Bromley Davenport; W: Daryl Haney.

XX/XY 🦴🦴½ 2002 (R) In 1993, Coles Burroughs (Ruffalo) is studying film at Sarah Lawrence, meets fellow students Sam (Stange) and Thea (Robertson), and tries a menage a trois until pairing up with Sam for awhile. Ten years later, Coles is an ad exec living with longtime girlfriend Claire (Wright), Thea runs a restaurant with husband Miles (Thornton), and Sam has just returned from London after breaking her engagement. Sam and Coles meet accidentally and they're soon rekindling their long-ago flame. The sexual intrigue comes to a head during a weekend in the Hamptons. 91m/C VHS, DVD. US Mark Ruffalo, Maya Stange, Kathleen Robertson, Petra Wright, David Thornton, Kel O'Neill, Joshua Spafford, Zach Shaffer; D: Austin Chick; W: Austin Chick; C: Uta Briesewitz.

XXX 🦴🦴½ 2002 (PG-13) Director Rob Cohen attempts to update the secret agent flick for the X Games crowd with this stunt-riddled explosion fest. Xander "XXX" Cage (Diesel) is a former extreme athlete recruited by NSA agent Gibbons (Jackson) after he's busted stealing a senator's car. Xander is given a choice between jail time or becoming a special ops agent. He then spends the rest of the movie jumping off, sliding down and blowing up plot devices. If you're looking for an introspective drama about feelings, move along. If you're looking to watch things go "Boom!" while a thick-necked mumbling guy acts like a jackass, then put it in and get some popcorn. Cohen and Diesel previously teamed up on the unexpected hit "The Fast and the Furious," so the bets on the duo remaking "Steel Magnolias" as their next project have officially been taken off the board. 111m/C VHS, DVD. US Vin Diesel, Samuel L. Jackson, Asia Argento, Marton Csokas, Danny Trejo, Michael Roof, Tom Everett, Richy Muller, Werner Daehn; D: Rob Cohen; W: Rich Wilkes; C: Dean Semler; M: Randy Edelman.

XXX: State of the Union 🦴🦴 2005 (PG-13) Ice Cube replaces Vin Diesel (whose character, Xander Cage, is pointedly and dismissively pronounced dead about 20 minutes in) as Darius Stone, a former Navy SEAL in Gibbons' (Jackson) old unit jailed nine years ago for leading a mutiny against a general. When members of that old SEAL unit begin disappearing and Gibbons' XXX HQ is attacked, the two team up to find out why. What they find is an attempted military coup by the Secretary of Defense (Dafoe). To no one's surprise, there's plenty of explosions, gunplay, car chases, and mayhem, and none of it makes a damn bit of sense. But for those who enjoy that sort of thing, it is a wild ride. Don't expect anything resembling believability, though. 94m/C DVD. US Ice Cube, Samuel L. Jackson, Willem Dafoe, Scott Speedman, Peter Strauss, Nona Gaye, Michael Roof, Sunny Mabrey, Xzibit, John G. Connolly; D: Lee Tamahori; W: Simon Kinberg; C: David Tattersall; M: Marco Beltrami.

Y Tu Mama Tambien 🦴🦴🦴½ And Your Mother Too 2001 Mexican teenagers Julio (Bernal) and Tenoch (Luna) envision a guilt-free, sex-filled summer when their girlfriends go to Europe on vacation. At a wedding, they meet Luisa (Verdu), the wife of Tenoch's cousin, and begin a flirtation, telling her of their planned trip to a secluded (and non-existent) beach. When Luisa discovers her husband's infidelity, she decides to join the boys on their trip, and their adolescent sexual fantasies turn to emotional upheaval when she seduces them separately. Believe it or not, this is a comedy (and a funny one), with "American Pie" type jokes and shenanigans sprinkled throughout. But since this movie has a brain, and something of a soul, the consequences aren't always slapstick-funny. Spanish with subtitles. 105m/C VHS, DVD. MX Gael Garcia Bernal, Diego Luna, Maribel Verdu; D: Alfonso Cuaron; W: Alfonso Cuaron, Carlos Cuaron; C: Emmanuel Lubezki. Ind. Spirit '03: Foreign Film; L.A. Film Critics '02: Foreign Film; N.Y. Film Critics '02: Foreign Film; Natl. Soc. Film Critics '02: Foreign Film.

Y2K 🦴½ 1999 (R) The gimmick of the Y2K bug is what this tame actioner hangs its plot on. A secret U.S. nuclear facility, estabished by the CIA in the Colombian jungle 30 years ago, is becoming destablized because its computer thinks it's 1969 and that the U.S. is under nuclear attack. A Y2K expert (Woolvett), a crazy general (McDowell), a CIA officer (O'Ross), and the facility's designer (Gossett), among others, all try to head off disaster. 103m/C VHS. Jaimz Woolvett, Louis Gossett Jr., Ed O'Ross, Malcolm McDowell, Sarah Chalke, Ismael Carlo; D: Richard Pepin; W: Terry Cunningham, Mick Dalrymple; C: Ronald Orieux; M: John Sponsler.

He learns the daughter has been kidnapped by the Japanese version of the Mafia (the Yakuza) and he must call on old acquaintances to help free her. Yanco 🦴🦴 1964 A young Mexican boy makes visits to an island where he plays his homemade violin. Unfortunately, no one can understand or tolerate his love for music, save for an elderly violinist, who gives him lessons on an instrument known as "Yanco." Not exactly riveting, but sensitively played. Spanish with subtitles. 95m/B VHS. MX Ricardo Ancona, Jesus Medina, Maria Bustamante; D: Servando Gonzalez; W: Servando Gonzalez; C: Alex Phillips Jr.; M: Gustavo Cesar Carrion.

A Yank in the R.A.F. 🦴🦴½ 1941 Power's enthusiastic performance as a brash American pilot boosts this dated WWII adventure. He and his British allies seem more concerned over who gets showgirl Betty Grable than in the Nazis, but climactic air attacks retain excitement. Produced by Darryl F. Zanuck to drum up American support for embattled Britain and France. 98m/B VHS, DVD. Tyrone Power, Betty Grable, John Sutton, Reginald Gardiner; D: Henry King.

His early days, triumphs, songs, musicals and romances are brought to life by the inexhaustible Cagney in a rare and wonderful song-and-dance performance. The Yards 🦴🦴½ 2000 (R) Director James Gray presents a gloomy, tragic New York story once again in his follow-up to "Little Odessa." Just out of the joint, Leo (Wahlberg) returns home to find that his mother Val (Burstyn) is suffering from a heart condition and his girl Erica (Theron) has taken up with his best friend Willie (Phoenix). Deciding to do right by mom, Leo decides to get a job with his Uncle Frank (Caan), whose company makes and repairs New York City trains. He discovers that his uncle isn't as squeaky clean as he thought when he joins Willie's crew, running highly illegal errands for Frank. On a sabotage mission to a competing company, Willie murders a security guard and tries to pin the crime on Leo. Leo is now chased by the cops and Uncle Frank's "family." Gray's writing is superb and the cast turns in good performances as well, although Theron's Noo Yawk accent tends to grate. 115m/C VHS, DVD, Wide. Mark Wahlberg, James Caan, Charlize Theron, Joaquin Rafael (Leaf) Phoenix, Ellen Burstyn, Faye Dunaway, Tony Musante, Steve Lawrence, Victor Argo, Tomas Milian, Victor Arnold, Chad Aaron, Andrew Davoli, Robert Montano; D: James Gray; W: James Gray, Matt Reeves; C: Harris Savides; M: Howard Shore. They buy a 200-year-old farmhouse and experience all the trials and amusements of forging a new life in a different country, complete with different language and customs. They hoped for tranquility and what they got were eccentric neighbors, endless renovations, lots of company, and a taste for good food and drink. The Year My Voice Broke 🦴🦴🦴 1987 (PG-13) Above-average adolescent drama: a girl breaks a boy's heart by getting pregnant by a tougher, older boy, then leaves town. Blues-inducing, explicit, and not pleasant, but good acting from newcomers carries the day. Followed by "Flirting." 103m/C VHS, DVD. AU Noah Taylor, Leone Carmen, Ben Mendelsohn, Graeme Blundell, Lynette Curran, Malcolm Robertson, Judi Farr, Bruce Spence; D: John Duigan; W: John Duigan; C: Geoff Burton; M: Christine Woodruff. The Year of Living Dangerously 🦴🦴🦴½ 1982 (PG) Political thriller features Gibson as immature, impulsive Australian journalist Guy Hamilton, who's covering a political story in Indonesia, circa 1965. During the coup against President Sukarno, he becomes involved with British attache Jill Bryant (Weaver) at the height of the bloody fighting and rioting in Jakarta. Hunt is excellent as male photographer Billy Swan, central to the action as the moral center. Rumored to be based on the activities of CNN's Peter Arnett, although the original source is a novel by C.J. Koch, who reportedly collaborated/battled with Weir on the screenplay. Fascinating, suspenseful film, set up brilliantly by Weir, with great romantic chemistry between Gibson and Weaver. Shot on location in the Philippines (then moved to Sydney after cast and crew were threatened). First Australian movie financed by a U.S. studio. 114m/C VHS, DVD, Wide. AU Mel Gibson, Sigourney

Year of the Comet 🦴🦴 1992 (PG-13) Amusing adventure/romantic comedy throws straightlaced Maggie (Miller) together with carefree Oliver (Daly) in a quest for a rare bottle of wine. Fine wine is Maggie's passion, and snagging this particular bottle will boost her status in the family business. Oliver is a pretzels and beer kind of guy, but his boss wants this bottle and will pay a lot to get it. Wants to be another "Romancing the Stone," but plot and characters are too thin. Nice chemistry between Miller and Daly sort of saves this one despite a disappointing script. Beautiful location shots of Scotland. 135m/C VHS. Penelope Ann Miller, Timothy Daly, Louis Jourdan, Art Malik, Ian Richardson, Ian McNeice, Timothy Bentinck, Julia McCarthy, Jacques Mathou; D: Peter Yates; W: William Goldman; M: Hummie Mann.

Year of the Dog 🦴🦴 2007 (PG-13) Peggy (Shannon) is your basic single, middle-aged office drone whose one true love is her beagle, Pencil. When Pencil suddenly dies, Peggy goes off the deep end in her grief. Looking for a sense of purpose, Peggy takes up the cause of animal rights, with the encouragement of fellow activist Newt (Sarsgaard), and also adopts every stray she sees. Shannon plays her character absolutely straight: Peggy might be nuts, she might be unsympathetic sometimes, but she's completely sincere and those animals are lucky to have her. Screenwriter (and actor) White makes his directorial debut. 98m/C DVD. US Molly Shannon, Peter Sarsgaard, Laura Dern, Tom McCarthy, Regina King, John C. Reilly, Josh Pais; D: Mike White; W: Mike White; C: Tim Orr; M: Christophe Beck.

Year of the Dragon 🦴🦴½ 1985 (R) Polish police Captain Stanley White of the NYPD vows to neutralize the crime lords running New York's Chinatown. Brilliant cinematography, well-done action scenes with maximum violence, a racist hero you don't want to root for, murky script, and semi-effective direction are the highlights of this tour through the black market's underbelly and hierarchy. Based on Robert Daley's novel. 136m/C VHS, DVD. Jack Kehler, Mickey Rourke, John Lone, Ariane, Leonard Termo, Raymond J. Barry; D: Michael Cimino; W: Oliver Stone, Michael Cimino.

Year of the Gun 🦴🦴½ 1991 (R) McCarthy is an American journalist in Rome who begins a novel based on the political instability around him, using the names of real people in his first draft. Soon, ambitious photojournalist Stone wants to collaborate with him, and the Red Brigade terrorist group wants to "remove" anyone associated with the book. Although failing on occasion to balance the thin line it establishes between reality and perception, "Gun" aspires to powerful drama, offering a realistic look at the lives and priorities of political terrorists. Love scenes between Stone and McCarthy are torrid. 111m/C VHS, DVD. Andrew McCarthy, Sharon Stone, Valeria Golino, John Pankow, Mattia Sbragia, George Murcell; D: John Frankenheimer; W: David Ambrose, Jay Presson Allen; M: Bill Conti.

Year of the Horse 🦴🦴 1997 (R) Jarmusch's documentary on the nearly 30-year rock phenomenon of Neil Young & Crazy Horse. Looking as gritty as some of Horse's riffs sound, pic intercuts footage of the band's performances in '76, '86, and the latest '96 European and U.S. tours shot on Super-8, High Fi-8 video, and 16 mm. Jarmusch wisely lets songs run full-length with complete performances intact, though lesser fans of the band may not be as thrilled about that. Falls short in capturing the spirit and essence of the band and their drive to stay together after all these years, but does show some cool behind-the-scenes moments that make it worthwhile to rock fans. 107m/C VHS, DVD, Wide. D: Jim Jarmusch.

Year of the Quiet Sun 🦴🦴🦴½ 1984 (PG) A poignant, acclaimed love story about a Polish widow and an American soldier who find each other in the war-torn landscape of 1946 Europe. The Yearling 🦴🦴🦴½ 1946 This family classic is a tear-jerking adaptation of the Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings novel about a young boy's love for a yearling fawn during the post Civil-War era. His father's encouragement and his mother's bitterness play against the story of unqualified love amid poverty and the boy's coming of age. Wonderful footage of Florida. Jarman was awarded a special Oscar as outstanding child actor. 128m/C VHS, DVD. Gregory Peck, Jane Wyman, Claude Jarman Jr., Chill Wills, Henry Travers, Jeff York, Forrest Tucker, June Lockhart, Margaret Wycherly; D: Clarence Brown; C: Charles Rosher. Surviving son, 12-year-old Jody (Horneff), gets more than his share of life's hard lessons—with even his adored pet causing problems. On the cloying side, the 1946 big-screen version is still the one to watch. Filmed in South Carolina. 98m/C VHS. Peter Strauss, Jean Smart, Wil Horneff, Brad Greenquist, Jarred Blanchard, Philip Seymour Hoffman, Nancy Moore Atchison; D: Rod Hardy; W: Joe Wiesenfeld; M: Lee Holdridge.

The Yellow Cab Man 🦴🦴½ 1950 Skelton plays a cab driver who is also an inventor of safety gadgets. When he invents unbreakable elastic glass he finds various crooks after him for the formula. Skelton's wacky inventions are amusing and the movie culminates in a breakneck chase through a home show exposition. 85m/B VHS. Red Skelton, Gloria De Haven, Walter Slezak, Edward Arnold, James Gleason, Jay C. Flippen, Paul Harvey; D: Jack Donohue.

Yellow Cargo 🦴🦴 1936 Ingenious "B" movie about a pair of undercover agents who blow the lid off a smuggling scam. It seems that the smugglers have been masquerading as a movie crew, and use disguised Chinese "extras" to transport their goods. He becomes involved in the lives of a local peasant family, including a 14-year-old girl who wishes to escape from a pre-arranged marriage. In Mandarin Chinese with English subtitles. 89m/C VHS. CH Xue Bai, Wang Xueqi, Tan Tuo, Liu Qiang; D: Chen Kaige; W: Zhang Ziliang.

The Yellow Fountain 🦴🦴 La Fuente Amarilla 1999 Following the mysterious suicide of her boyfriend, Lola (Abascal) heads for Madrid to research the Chinese side of her family, and to get clues surrounding her beau's strange behavior. There, she meets Sergio (Noriega), a nerdy government employee whose hobby is collecting data on Chinese immigrants. Together, they uncover an illegal immigrant smuggling ring, and Lola decides to take on the ruthless Triads. Director Santesmases allows the film to unfold at a deliberate pace, as another piece of the puzzle is revealed every few minutes. The problem is that most of the story seems very hackneyed. We've all seen the movie where the fearless girl influences the bookish guy, and the image of Chinese only being gangsters is getting very old. The bright spot in the film is Noriega, who sheds his playboy image and is quite good as the quiet Sergio. 94m/C DVD, Wide. SP Silvia Abascal, Eduardo Noriega, Carlos Wu, Chuen Lam; D: Miguel Santesmases; W: Miguel Santesmases; C: Javier Aguirresarobe.

Fascinating LSD-esque animation and imagery. Speaking voices provided by John Clive (John), Geoff Hughes (Paul), Peter Batten (George), and Paul Angelis (Ringo). Yes 🦴🦴½ 2004 (R) When She (Allen) and He (Abkarian) cross paths in London some serious sexual fireworks go off and, at first, they ignore their cultural differences—She's an Irish-American scientist trapped in a dead-end marriage to a rich politician and He's a Lebanese refugee and surgeon-turned-chef. All good things must come to an end, though, as he despises Western culture while she questions Islamic values. Tries too hard to push its post-9/11 political message, as it awkwardly uses poetic meter for dialogue. 99m/C DVD. US Joan Allen, Simon Abkarian, Sam Neill, Shirley Henderson, Sheila Hancock, Samantha Bond, Gary Lewis, Raymond Waring, Stephanie Leonidas, Wil Johnson; D: Sally Potter; C: Alexei Rodionov; M: Sally Potter.

He has an advantage over other non-actors trapped in similar situations (e.g., Hulk Hogan): He can sing (but of course, not wrestle). Schaffner; W: Norman Steinberg; M: John Williams.

Though Lee achieves stardom, he finds himself hounded by martial artists that want to challenge him. This unauthorized biopic follows the major events in Bruce Lee's life but most of it is cliched fabrication. The film is cheap and poorly crafted, but Lung (AKA Bruce Li) does a fairly successful job of mimicking Lee and he's helped by an accurate hairdo and wardrobe. As far as Bruce Lee wannabe films, you could do a lot worse. Despite the packaging, there is no Lee footage in the film—only a newsphoto of his body. 80m/C VHS, DVD. Bruce Li.

Young Frankenstein 🦴🦴🦴🦴 1974 (PG) Young Dr. Frankenstein (Wilder), a brain surgeon, inherits the family castle back in Transylvania. He's skittish about the family business, but when he learns his grandfather's secrets, he becomes obsessed with making his own monster. Wilder and monster Boyle make a memorable song-and-dance team to Irving Berlin's "Puttin' on the Ritz," and Hackman's cameo as a blind man is inspired. Garr ("What knockers!" Demy's followup to the more compelling "The Umbrellas of Cherbourg" is still an equally candy-colored musical fantasy. Rochefort (like Cherbourg) is an actual town that Demy took over for filming. 125m/C VHS, DVD, Wide. FR Catherine Deneuve, Francoise Dorleac, George Chakiris, Grover Dale, Gene Kelly, Jacques Perrin, Danielle Darrieux, Michel Piccoli, Pamela Hart, Jacques Riberolles, Leslie North; D: Jacques Demy; W: Jacques Demy; C: Ghislan Cloquet; M: Michel Legrand.

Zardoz 🦴🦴 1973 A surreal parable of the far future (2293), when Earth society is broken into strict classes: a society of intellectuals known as the Eternals, a society of savages called the Brutals, and an elite unit of killers, naturally named the Exterminators, who keep the order. The Exterminators worship a stone god named Zardoz, but killer Zed (Connery) discovers that it's merely a futuristic version of "The Wizard of Oz" and that the Eternals have been manipulating the social order. His presence causes chaos and destruction (but he does get all the babes). Visually interesting but pretentious. 105m/C VHS, DVD, Wide. GB Sean Connery, Charlotte Rampling, John Alderton, Sara Kestelman, Sally Anne Newton, Niall Buggy, Christopher Casson, Bosco Hogan, Jessica Swift; D: John Boorman; W: John Boorman; C: Geoffrey Unsworth; M: David Munrow.

Zatoichi 🦴🦴🦴½ The Blind Swordsman: Zatoichi 2003 (R) Versatile and popular filmmaker Kitano (who also takes on the lead role under his actor's pseudonym) kicks butt as a legendary 19th-century samurai (an iconic figure in Japanese film and TV). Which makes a good excuse for Zatoichi to challenge the gang and their own formidable samurai Hattori (Asano). Zebrahead 🦴🦴🦴 1992 (R) Zack and Nikki are two high schoolers in love—which would be okay except Zack's white and Nikki's black. Zelig 🦴🦴🦴½ 1983 (PG) Documentary spoof stars Allen as Leonard Zelig, the famous "Chameleon Man" of the 1920s, whose personality was so vague he would assume the characteristics of those with whom he came into contact, and who had a habit of showing up among celebrities and at historic events. Filmed in black-and-white; intersperses bits of newsreel and photographs with live action. Allen-style clever filmmaking at its best. 79m/B VHS, DVD, Wide. Woody Allen, Mia Farrow, Susan Sontag, Saul Bellow, Irving Howe; D: Woody Allen; W: Woody Allen; C: Gordon Willis. N.Y. Film Critics '83: Cinematog.

Zelly & Me 🦴🦴🦴 Phoebe 1988 (PG) A strange little drama about a young orphan living with her maniacally possessive grandmother, who forces the child into her own interior life through humiliation and isolation from anyone she cares for. Well-acted and interesting film that suffers from an overly introspective plot and confusing gaps in the narrative. Look for director Lynch on the other side of the camera. 87m/C VHS. Isabella Rossellini, Alexandra Johnes, David Lynch, Glynis Johns, Kaiulani Lee, Joe Morton; D: Tina Rathborne; W: Tina Rathborne; C: Mikael Salomon; M: Pino Donaggio.

He finds work as a sleeping-car conductor for a giant railway system called Zentropa and finds himself romancing the mysterious Katharina, who draws the hapless Leopold into an intrigue involving Nazi sympathizers. Trapped and in need of assistance, Iria calls on her old friends Teppei (Iida) and Kamiya (Hotaru), two bumbling electricians to help her. On his arrival in the stark and frozen landscape, he is forced to share a cabin with the stoic, silent Holm (Sundquist) and the lewd, violent Randbaek (Skarsgard). Randbaek holds the newcomer and his city-boy ways in disdain, creating an air of tension and menace that inevitably results in a clash between the two. Instead of dwelling on the action aspect, director Moland uses the minimalist landscape to echo the psychological battles the men must face with the frigid terrain and between themselves. Zeus and Roxanne 🦴🦴 1996 (PG) Hey, I know! Let's combine "Flipper" and "Benji" with "The Parent Trap!" You know, for the kids! Marine biologist and single mom Mary Beth (Quinlan) meets her unconventional (and conveniently widowed) new neighbor Terry (Guttenberg) and his dog Zeus. Cuteness ensues. Mary Beth's daughters and Terry's young son go about getting the two adults together. Meanwhile, Zeus and Roxanne, Mary Beth's dolphin, strike up a unique friendship of their own. Showing up to provide drama is evil guy Claude (Vosloo), who is vying for the same grant as Mary Beth. Unlikely animal couple steals the show, and the story would have benefitted from focusing on the entertaining bond between those two and less on the human romance. Not much appeal for anyone over the age of nine. 98m/C VHS, DVD, Wide. Kathleen Quinlan, Steve Guttenberg, Arnold Vosloo, Miko Hughes, Dawn McMillan, Majandra Delfino; D: George Miller; W: Tom Benedek; C: David Connell; M: Bruce Rowland.

The Zodiac 🦴 2005 (R) Under-realized account of the notorious Zodiac Killer, who infamously terrorized the San Francisco area in the late '60s and has eluded the police to this day. Depressingly bland and straight-forward, unintentionally looking like an episode of "Columbo." The killer is seen in shadow and cops are bogged down in exposition and melodrama. Do not confuse this clunker with the masterful David Fincher-helmed "Zodiac" (although they probably hope you will). 92m/C DVD. US Justin Chambers, Robin Tunney, Rory Culkin, William Mapother, Brad William Henke, Rex Linn, Philip Baker Hall, Ian Scott Mcgregor, Marty Lindsey, Shelby Alexis Irey, Natassia Costa, Kris Palm, Nate Dushku, Katelin Chesna, Jodi Feder, Kathryn Howell, George Maguire, Carolyne Smith, Munda Razooki; D: Alexander Bulkley; W: Kelly Bulkley; C: Denis Maloney; M: Michael Suby.
